Cut In Overtime Seen As Road To More Jobs

Average Employee
Did 2.6 Hours Extra
Work In March

WASHINGTON (AP)—Close to a million jobs could be created if the substantial overtime being worked in manufacturing industries could be somehow eliminated and the work turned over to the unemployed.

One of the major inequities of the nation's economic situation is that, with millions unemployed, workers who have jobs are enjoying almost unprecedented earnings because of a great deal of overtime at bonus rates.

The government reports that factory workers, for example, averaged 2.6 hours of overtime a week during March.

If these overtime hours were denied to workers already on factory payrolls and idled employees rehired to do the work, a sizable dent would be made in the nation's 4.4 million unemployed total. The total would be reduced still more if the same thing were done in nonmanufacturing industries.

Why isn't this done? Why do employers prefer to pay workers 1½ times their regular rate of pay for substantial amounts of overtime, rather than recall experienced workers, still on layoff from the recession, to do the work at the cheaper straight time rate of pay?

The answer, according to the experts, is that while a certain amount of overtime work is always necessary because of rush jobs and need for particularly skilled workmen, the situation is aggravated now by several factors.

Employers hesitate to take on responsibilities involved in hiring new workers when they are uncertain about long-term business conditions.

Another reason is the cost of fringe benefits. It has become cheaper in some cases to pay the overtime premium for extra hours than to take back former workers and the obligations for fringe benefit costs and payroll taxes. With one worker these costs are paid only once, with two workers twice.

The cost differential favoring overtime is not always true, but it is in enough cases now when employers may see enough work ahead for several months for extra employees but not enough work beyond that.

Labor union leaders are reported to have broached the problem to President Kennedy at a recent White House conference. Nothing was decided, but the union men are considering a plea to Congress to boost the overtime penalty to double time, or twice the regular pay rate.

The purpose would be to discourage overtime and hiring of extra workers.

Strong Is Named By Advertising Bureau of ANPA

NEW YORK (AP)—G. Gordon Strong of Canton, president and general manager of Brush-Moore Newspapers, Inc., is the new vice-chairman of the Bureau of Advertising of the American Newspaper Publishers Association.

The Ohio executive was elected Wednesday afternoon to succeed Jack Tarver, president of the Atlanta Journal & Constitution, who was elevated to board chairman of the Bureau of Advertising.

Strong is program chairman for the ANPA's 75th annual convention which opened here Tuesday. British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan will address the annual dinner of the Bureau of Advertising tonight. Macmillan, who arrived by plane Wednesday, was to confer today with U Thant, acting secretary of the United Nations, and is scheduled to fly Friday to Washington, where he will be a guest at the annual dinner of the White House Correspondents Association.

Macmillan will have formal discussions Saturday with President Kennedy.

COMMUNITY SERVICE AWARD — Atty. Robert Powers smiles approvingly after Mrs. Roy E. Weaver (right), Columbiana public librarian, received the Chamber of Commerce's community service award last night.

Librarian Gets Chamber Plaque

Columbiana Cites Mrs. Roy Weaver

COLUMBIANA Mrs. Roy E. Weaver, Columbiana librarian for 26 years was honored with the "Lifetime of Service" award at the Chamber of Commerce annual dinner Wednesday night in Dixon School.

Robert Powers presented the award to Mrs. Weaver, the second woman to have the honor bestowed since 1957 when Miss Estella Esterly received a similar plaque for dedicated service to the community.

Mrs. Weaver was a member of the Public Library Board when it was first established. In 1936, she resigned as a trustee to become head librarian. She is a member of the Presbyterian Church and served as choir director for many years. She is a member of the L.L. Class and the Women's Association of the church.

Mrs. Weaver, in addition, helped to organize and later became president of the first Parent-Teacher Organization here.

She has set up branch libraries in the High School, Joshua Dixon School, and she has made arrangements for another branch in the new South Side School.

Mr. Powers, who was recently taken on a tour of the local library, said in his presentation speech, "I am amazed to see the marvelous efficiency with which Mrs. Weaver handles the library. She has, indeed, dedicated her life to the community."

Mrs. Weaver, completely overwhelmed, replied in her acceptance speech, "To have the 'Lifetime of Service' award presented to one is an honor, but to have it given to you for something you would rather do than anything else in the world, is beyond belief."

Others on the local "Lifetime of Service" honor roll are:
1954 — Harvey Hisey, local fire chief for 35 years.
1955 — Dr. Harry Bookwalter, 55 years of medical service.

1956 — Clyde Hoover, town board member for 30 years.
1957 — Estella Esterly, educator for 36 years.

1958 — Leo Holloway, service to the schools and to the church.
1960 — S. Richard Orr, Columbiana village clerk for 30 years.

No awards were presented in 1953, 1959, and 1961.

Ranger 4 Crash-Lands On Backside of Moon

Saturn Rocket Tests Continue On Schedule

Expected To Lift
Apollo Spaceship
Into Orbit In '64

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — The great Saturn rocket is on schedule on a timetable to boost the three-man Apollo spaceship into orbit in late 1964—an important step toward placing the craft on the moon in this decade.

That was the status report given by Dr. Wernher von Braun Wednesday after the second straight successful test-firing of the huge eight-engine booster.

Pouring 1.3 million pounds of thrust from the first-stage power plant, the 162-foot Saturn roared into a clear sky in an awesome display of flame and noise. The engines, spewing a 300-foot tail of fire, burned out as intended 115 seconds after launching, at an altitude of 35 miles, in what one National Aeronautics and Space Administration spokesman termed a 100 per cent successful performance.

The vehicle coasted upward to an altitude of 65 miles and there was destroyed deliberately by an electronic signal beamed from Cape Canaveral.

As the Saturn ripped apart, 95 tons of water carried for ballast in two dummy upper stages poured into the rarified air of the upper atmosphere and blossomed into a massive cloud of ice flakes. The cloud expanded in two seconds to a diameter of 8 to 10 miles and 12 seconds later dissipated in the atmosphere.

The unloading of the water was a secondary scientific experiment designed to gather data on "how quickly the equilibrium would establish itself in the upper atmosphere after it had been disturbed by sudden introduction of the water."

A radar device in a tracking plane detected "electrical discharge phenomena" near the cloud. This was created by ice droplets of different sizes striking one another, causing friction. Study of data from the experiment may take weeks.

Despite two complete successful flights of the world's largest known rocket, Saturn will not soon overcome the Soviet lead over the United States in booster power.

The Russians are using a rocket with estimated thrust of one million pounds for manned and unmanned space flights. The most powerful operational U.S. space booster is the Atlas-Agena B with first stage thrust of 367,000 pounds.

Saturn has eight more test flights scheduled in the research program before it will be ready in 1964 to carry the first manned Apollo spacecrafts into earth orbit for periods up to two weeks.

Forge Cold, But Summitville Smithy Still Keeps Useful

H. H. Benson, 86,
Took Pride In Shoeing Oxen

By GLENN SCHOTTEN

SUMMITVILLE — Hard, oversized and calloused by 50 years of shodding horses and other beasts of burden, the hands of H. H. Benson are still turning out useful products.

The 86-year-old blacksmith let the fire go out in his forge 10 years ago, but he is making remarkably strong and sharp knives out of hacksaw steel and helps carpenters keep their tools in good cutting condition.

A blacksmith from 1905 till 1952, Benson prides himself on being the only smith within 50 miles of here, in any direction, who could shoe an ox. Six owners of oxen patronized him regularly.

"I didn't know a thing about shoeing cattle the owner of a pair of oxen taught me," Benson recalls. Since oxen have cloven hooves, it takes two pieces of metal, one on each side, to support the frame of an ox.

LIKE MOST OLDSTERS linked with rural pursuits, Benson loves to recall the past, the longer ago the better. He can reel off yarn after yarn, all true, of some of the orneriest animals this side of the Mississippi.

To handle such obstreperous horses, he put them in what a neighbor dubbed the "electric chair," which still stands in the old, red barn. This was the stocks—a stout pair of wooden arms, that extended beyond the rear of the horse. A wide canvas belt held the horse's hips, a rope harness fastened to his head. A steel clamp gripped the hoof Benson was working on. By the time all parts were in place, the horse couldn't move forward, backward or sideways, rear up or lay down.

Brokaw to Appeal High Court Decision

LISBON — Columbiana County Prosecutor G. William Brokaw announced today that he intends to ask for a re-hearing before the State Supreme Court in the high court's ruling ordering the rehiring of four Democratic appointees who were dismissed 15 months ago by a Republican-controlled county commissioners' office.

The State Supreme Court upheld the Seventh District Court of Appeals writ of mandamus action ordering the county commissioners to reinstate the four because they had been dismissed without cause while they were under provisional civil service appointment.

Prosecutor Brokaw said he based his re-hearing on the questions arising and unanswered in the courts opinion, due to the amendment of Section 143.08 Ohio Revised Code, which became effective Sept. 19, 1961.

VILLAGE SMITHY — For almost 50 years H. H. Benson, 86, pounded out shoes like this at his smithy in Summitville. Knife-making and repair of carpentry tools now occupy his time.

"Before I got the stocks, me and my helpers were getting the daylight knocked out of us, but I never got a broken bone," Benson said.

Second Blast Expected Within Days

Scientist Check Data From A-Test

WASHINGTON (AP)—Scientists today checked preliminary data from the first blast in the new U.S. nuclear test series to see if it yielded significant information on improving the efficiency of American atomic weapons.

The new series got under way Wednesday over remote Christmas Island in the Pacific with the explosion of a research and development device, rather than a finished atomic weapon. A similar device likely will be used for the second blast—expected in a few days—as the United States pursues one of the major goals of the new test series: greater weapons efficiency.

Reaction in the wake of the opening blast was as expected. In Congress, Democratic and Republican leaders said there had been no alternative but to test again in the atmosphere, the Soviet Union loosed a vehement attack on the United States and from other nations there was a mixed chorus of denunciation and approval.

Some U.S. officials predicted anew that Russia would now follow through—and soon—with another test series of her own.

Informed sources suggested that the leadoff U.S. device in Operation Dominic, the name given to the first U.S. atmospheric tests in almost four years, probably rocked the Pacific waters with the blast equivalent of 100,000 to 500,000 tons of TNT. In a terse announcement, similar in style to those that followed 29 announced underground tests, the Atomic Energy Commission described Wednesday's blast as "in the intermediate yield range."

Other sources said word from Task Force 8 in the test area was that the firing was successful.

Seen As Major Step for U.S. In Outer Space

Feat Duplicates
Soviet Achievement
Of Sept. 12, 1959

GOLDSTONE, Calif. (AP)—The United States scored a major advance in space today when the crippled spacecraft Ranger 4 crash-landed on the far side of the moon.

It was this country's first success in seven attempts to land a piece of hardware on the moon and virtually duplicated the feat of Russia's Lunik II which hit the moon Sept. 12, 1959.

A space official called the feat another of the long strides in space made in the past year.

James E. Webb, head of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, told newsmen Ranger 4 was much more complex than anything the Soviets have attempted.

Dr. William Pickering, director of NASA's jet propulsion laboratory which built Ranger 4, said that despite the failure of a key electronic system in the spacecraft the fact that it hit the moon "gives us confidence we can send instruments to the moon with the accuracy needed."

He said another Ranger to take close-up television pictures of the moon's surface will be launched by the end of the year.

The crippled Ranger 4 zipped behind the moon at 4:47 a.m., PST (7:47 a.m., EST) and the scientists tracking it calculated that it impacted on the far side two minutes later.

Although there was no way of seeing the actual impact, scientists said Ranger 4's trajectory before passing behind the moon assured that it would land in the predicted area.

The 780-pound vehicle, launched from Cape Canaveral, Fla., Monday, made the 321,486-mile journey to the moon in 64 hours.

It passed the sunlit left half of the moon at an altitude of about 900 miles, aimed at a spot one-fourth of the way around on the back side.

Scientists calculated its speed at impact at 5,963 miles an hour, 4 from completing most of its missions. It carried several scientific instruments, including a television camera to take close-up pictures of the moon's surface. But a timer designed to operate these devices went haywire shortly after launch.

Scientists at the jet propulsion laboratory, where Ranger 4 was built, tracked its faint radio beacon at the Goldstone tracking station on the Mojave Desert 50 miles north of Barstow, Calif.

The first light of dawn was spreading across the desert as Ranger 4 neared its target. A flashing red light at the base of the huge antenna warned ground

Late Bulletin

LONDON (AP)—The Soviet Union today announced the launching of a new artificial earth satellite, fourth in the latest series.

Moscow Radio said the new spunk is named Cosmos 4.

No. 3 was launched Tuesday, the same day the United States sent a Ranger rocket toward the moon. The Ranger hit the moon today.

Cosmos 1 was fired March 16 and Cosmos 2 April 6 after a relatively long period of Soviet inactivity in space.

There was no suggestion that today's shot was manned.

Nuclear Tests At A Glance

By The Associated Press
WASHINGTON—Scientists seek to determine whether first blast in new U.S. nuclear test series yields significant data for improving atomic weapons; Soviets expected to begin new round of tests heightening East-West tensions.

MOSCOW—Soviet commentator charges President Kennedy with telling "biggest lie" when he said last March he did not want tests; says "new round in the nuclear arms race (has been started)" Russian officials at U.N. say American tests "will upset balance" of nuclear strength that Soviets equalized with series last year.

GENEVA—Chief U.S. disarmament negotiator Arthur H. Dean tells 17-nation disarmament conference quick and permanent ban on nuclear testing remains prime objective of Washington policy and negotiations for test ban must continue.

Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Valerian A. Zorin tells conference the new American tests were "an aggressive act directed against the world which has pushed us closer to the abyss of inevitable war." Says Soviet Union compelled "take necessary measures to protect its security," presumably meaning new series of Soviet tests.

LONDON—Western Allies blame Soviet fall test series and refusal to agree to test ban controls for new U.S. series; some leaders express fear of nuclear arms race; small protest demonstration appears before U.S. embassies in London, Copenhagen; some newspapers critical of U.S. test resumption.

TOKYO—325 noisy demonstrators try to storm U.S. Embassy compound but police drive them off; Japanese government files protest to Washington similar to protest to Moscow against Soviet tests last fall.

HIROSHIMA—Citizens of first atom-bombed city express dismay and regret at American tests.

TAIPEI—Nationalist China heralds American blast as show of strength; South Korea approves U.S. tests but expresses hope Geneva test ban talks will continue; Burma hopes all tests can be stopped; the Philippines says "nobody can possibly rejoice" but calls American tests "a painful necessity." India calls American tests tragic while Geneva talks still on.

NEW RURITAN CLUB CHARTERED — Pictured at Wednesday night's charter presentation of the new Washingtonville Ruritan Club were (l. to r.) Louis Stoffer, temporary chairman; Robert Sanders, who was acting secretary-treasurer; Dale Hileman and James Baxter, district Ruritan officers.

Marvin Fieldhouse was installed as president when the newly organized Washingtonville Ruritan Club received its charter at a dinner meeting Wednesday evening in the Washingtonville Lutheran Church.

Assisting Mr. Fieldhouse during the coming year will be the following officers:

Vice president, John Davis; secretary, Joseph Schaffer; and treasurer, Robert Sanders. Director for three years will be Louis Stoffer; two years, Albert Spears, and one year, E. J. Savage.

Presentation of the charter was made by James Baxter of Salem RD 4, district governor, who spoke regarding the history of the organization and outlined future aims and purposes.

Several guests were present from the Greenford Ruritans, sponsor of the new club, and speaking from that organization were James Justice, who is lieutenant governor of Zone Three, and William Ferguson.

The date for Washingtonville's future meetings has been set as the fourth Wednesday of each month when members will gather for dinner at 7:30 p.m.

Joseph Schaffer will be program chairman for the May 23 meeting in the Washingtonville Lutheran Church.

Steve Barborak Is Elected Beaver Boosters Club Head

ROGERS — Steve Barborak was elected president when members of the Beaver Local Boosters Club met Tuesday evening in the high school.

He will be assisted during the coming year by the following panel of officers: Vice president, Mrs. Dorothy Smith; recording secretary, Mrs. Ila Horger; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Leo Barton, and treasurer, Mrs.

Mary Berger. Trustees elected to serve two years are, retiring president, Foyne Wright, S. L. Jones and James Gerace.

Lee Myers will handle publicity and reporting will be done by Mrs. Leo Jenkins and Mrs. Gail Williams.

The business meeting was opened with prayer by Gail Williams and presided over by Foyne Wright.

Plans were discussed for the All Sports banquet May 2 in the high school gym, with Miss Helen Ryan as general chairman. Speaker will be Larry Bruno, football coach of Beaver Falls High School. The banquet will be a cover-dish affair at 6:30 p.m. DST. Meat, rolls and beverage will be furnished and members are to bring table service.

Announcement was made that the Beaver Local Public Schools All Sports banquet will be May 9 at the public school.

George Gaydos, reported on bids received for the Booster Bus offered for sale last month and said only one bid had been received and that was judged as too low. He then bid $150 for the bus and it was accepted.

Tentative plans were discussed for the sponsorship of a professional wrestling match in June.

Mr. Barborak, as incoming president, appointed Mr. and Mrs. Gaydos as chairmen of the refreshment committee for the next meeting at 7:30 p.m. DST May 8. Foyne Wright will be chairman of the entertainment committee.

Gray Motor Is Low Bidder For City Truck

Gray Motor Sales, 909 W. State St., is the apparent low bidder for a contract to sell the city a three-quarter ton pick-up truck to be equipped for use by the electrical department.

Its bid of $2,259 includes a $100 allowance for a 1952 Ford pick-up truck which the city wants to trade in.

Three bids were received and opened at noon Wednesday. Bud Shaffer Ford, Inc., bid $2,280.60, including a $50 trade-in for the old truck; and Parker Chevrolet bid $2,353, including a $500 trade-in allowance.

A limit of $2,800 had been placed on the truck by City Council. Service Director James Feiler said the three bids will be studied and a contract let in a day or two.

Two Men, Woman Shot to Death In Chicago Suburb

ELMWOOD PARK, Ill. (AP)—A volley of gunshots killed two men and a woman before dawn today as they motored along a quiet residential street in this Chicago suburb. The car crashed into a house.

Neighborhood residents said they heard a number of rapidly fired shots.

The victims were identified tentatively by police as Phillip Scavo, 36, of Elmwood Park; Ronald Scavo of Chicago; and Marianne Martarano, 30, also of Chicago. Police said it was not known if the Scavos were related.

Phillip Scavo had $1,118 in cash on his person, police said. Ronald Scavo carried $207.

Police said Phillip Scavo was shot once in the left side of the neck, Marianne Martarano was shot twice in the head and Ronald Scavo had a neck wound. The three victims bled profusely.

Police Sgt. Robert Olsen said the bodies were found after he received a telephone call to investigate an auto accident.

The auto crashed into a home owned by Rudolf Kornfeind. Little damage was done to the house.

Mrs. Kornfeind told The Associated Press she was awakened about 3:45 by a loud crash and a screech of brakes.

"My husband and I jumped out of bed and then we heard shots. My husband called police and I looked out the window," she said.

"I saw a black car speeding away in a southerly direction. Then the police came."

Olsen said skid marks made by the victims' sports car indicated the auto had been jammed into reverse gear, plowed across the Kornfeinds' lawn and smashed into the house.

The right front window of the car was shattered, apparently by the shots. Police said the car was owned by Phillip Scavo.

Elmwood Park is a community of about 23,000 residents. It borders the west side of Chicago.

What About Big Labor?

No public event in years has been combed over and picked to pieces more thoroughly than President Kennedy's slapdown of the steel industry when some of its largest corporations declared they had raised prices. Nevertheless, this point has been missed: The surprise in the angry presidential reaction was not caused by the fact its victim was the steel industry but by the fact presidential anger had found a target and scored a clean hit when the decision to raise prices was rescinded.

After the initial reaction of astonishment that the White House and Big Steel had swapped blows, the next reaction was to wonder if the White House would swing from the floor the next time its prestige was challenged.

VICTOR RIESEL hints the next time may be a drive for a 25-hour week by the New York City Central Labor Council AFL-CIO. This would make all the possible inflation in a $6 boost in the tonnage price of steel look like the price of a stick of gum if a 25-hour week puts down roots in New York and was imitated throughout the country.

What would President Kennedy do about that kind of inflation? Would he demand cancellation of the action? A congressional investigation? A Department of Justice investigation? New laws to restrain labor unions?

Would he unlimber all the power of the federal government to make it known he would order federal contracts to be shifted away from unionists sharing in the policy he disliked? Would he bring as much pure, unalloyed joy to the hearts of those who think unionists go too far in collusive tactics as he brought to the hearts of those who wonder about the "separate but equal" status of steel producers?

IF SO, President Kennedy could become the most popular chief executive of this era. He would satisfy a need that is aching from neglect.

He would convince the people of the United States that their man in the White House was capable of swinging from the floor against all offenders.

He would prove to them that labor unions could be chastised and tongue-lashed to the accompanying cheers of a long-suffering public too.

We still don't believe the steel corporations deserved what they got, but it is admittedly what most people wanted them to get. I was splendid politics, no doubt of that.

It would be equally splendid politics to see the next inflationary move by labor unions stopped in its tracks. President Kennedy might be bowled over by the discovery that what his countrymen really resent is a sense of being squeezed by power beyond their control, regardless of who wields the power.

They're waiting for him to drop the other shoe—the one labeled "Willingness To Swing at Big Labor."

Which Half Is Wasted?

When the next presidential campaign gets rolling in 1964, suppose you decide where the campaigners would do this themselves but they have enough trouble now raising enough money to pay their bills. They have nothing to spare on investigations to show where half their money is being wasted.

If your decision makes sense, the national committees of the two major parties will compete for your services as national chairman.

This is because the President's Commission on Campaign Costs, whose report now is being read wherever Americans can get their hands on a copy, says half of all campaign expenditures are wasted, in the opinion of most politicians, but no one knows which half. "Less money would be spent on campaigns if the wasteful half could be identified," concludes the commission drily. The commission recommends that someone put up the money for an investigation to locate the wasted half. Ideally, the political parties would do this themselves but they have enough trouble now raising enough money to pay their bills. They have nothing to spare on investigations to show where half their money is being wasted.

This is where individual voters have something to offer. Here is a start: That politicians and political parties should assume about television what they always have assumed about newspapers—that coverage of political speeches is a public obligation.

Newspapers deal with political debate as a free service. They regard it as part of the process of government. They are concerned with it, therefore.

Newspapers have advertising space to sell, just as television has time to sell. But the newspaper industry does not charge for coverage of basic campaigning. It charges only for what is plainly designed to be political advertising.

At a time when as much as a third of the cost of a national campaign is blotted up in TV costs, this would be a logical place to start to save money—not to cut down on TV exposure but to make the television industry give more free time to political campaigners.

One Man's Opinion

"Where is the news in this letter?" a reader writes, enclosing a copy of a letter which one of our readers had submitted for publication. "This looks more like one man's opinion," the complaint continued.

Well, that's exactly what the letter was: One man's opinion. In fact, the "From Our Readers" column on The Salem News editorial page is printed expressly for the purpose of letting people state their own opinions on assorted subjects.

Anyone with the courage of his or her convictions can have their views printed if they will sign their name and address. The News encourages contributions but urges that they be limited to 250 words.

Wiping Out Polio

A lot of people may not realize it, but Columbia and Mahoning Counties have pioneered in mass immunization against infantile paralysis by use of the safe, easy-to-take Sabin oral vaccine.

Many other counties are expected to follow suit. Portage and Cuyahoga counties already indicating they will urge public participation in taking the three separate doses that are required for complete immunization.

In Salem and the rest of Columbiana County, 53,200 persons—half the county's population—took the Type One Sabin vaccine last month. Type Three dosage is being given this week, with Type Two scheduled for late in May. Columbiana County is the first in the state to give the Type Three vaccine, according to the County Medical Society which is sponsoring the mass immunization.

The next polio season is still months away, but Spring, 1962, finds most of us protected against a disease that is still prevalent and that once was feared because of its crippling and oft-fatal results.

The earlier Salk injections and the Sabin drop-in-water shots should make all of us feel mighty thankful.

Once Over

AT&T annual meeting of stockholders, which drew capacity crowds through years when it served box lunches, played to small attendance in decades when it dropped free lunch. Stockholders chose a Campbell Soup official as new director, which indicates they think they are entitled to at least some canned conserve.

This could be biggest mistake in public relations since U.S. Steel boner in serving White House cold shoulder and deep-freeze tongue, knowing President had counted on hot meal. Steel was guilty of bad timing. AT&T is guilty of bad feeding.

Free lunch is an institution with big corporation. Is telephone corporation saying, "Let 'em eat cake"? Does it think stockholders ask fewer questions when unfed? Is it switching from "Come here, Watson, I can hear you," to "Come here, Watson, and bring your own lunch"?

President Kappel looked well fed and some stockholders muttered, "He must have had a big meal before he got here" while moaning, "Imagine of the richest corporation on earth denying us a cup of coffee and a hotdog" and "If it can bounce telephone communications off satellites, how come it can't bump a chicken sandwich from the free lunch counter to a stockholder?"

Phone company heads deny desire for thinner stockholders in support of Kennedy fitness program and insist they have not discovered that people use phone more when hungry.

They dismiss report enormous outlays for expansion cause them to scrimp on ham and beans. Nevertheless fewer people attended this annual meeting than baseball game between seventh place "Mets" on same day.

The ball club served no free lunch but passed out paper plates which are edible under extreme circumstances. (Get me the complaint operator; I want to ask why the telephone company has disconnected feedbag)

WOMEN ARE BUYING WIGS by millions all over America. Big New York department store had spectacular demand in special sale of them in all shapes and colors. (Ya mean fantastic appearance of women for some time has NOT been due to wigs, but to their OWN HAIR)

Biggest laughs on TV are some commercials and point of their interruptions. The other night there was a tense moment when a battered man, bound hand and foot in cellar with time-block bomb about to explode, twisted in horror when words came flashing on TV screens, "You have a friend at the Chase Manhattan"

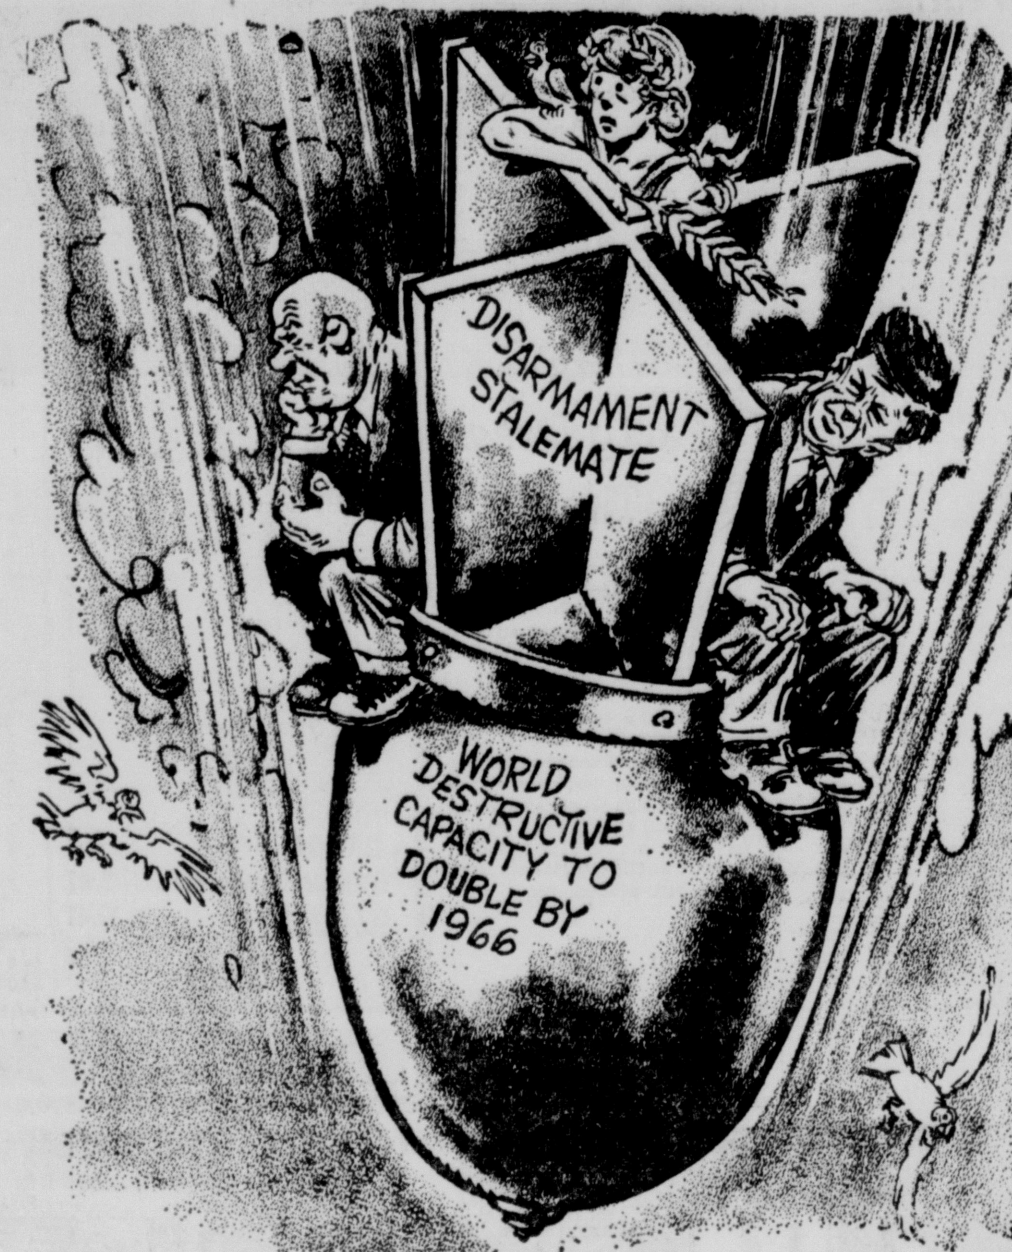

Ghana Cabinet minister has lost job and been deprived of palace as result of wife's purchase of $8,400 gold bed. We can hear him now exclaiming "You and your ideas of bedroom furniture"

New York's new ball club, the Mets, may draw fans largely through underdog appeal. They are bound to draw sympathies aroused by the slum dwellers and "mugging" victims.

President Kennedy says stockholder in big corporations have no kick coming and cites split-ups. This brings cries of "Oh, yeah?" from folks who lost plenty through splits. Steel is away off from last split, American Tobacco dropped 30 points following news of split up plan. Standard Oil of New Jersey hasn't been even close to what it was some years back after splitup and even AT&T is down plenty from its price after split. Only stockholders ahead are those who cashed in fast on split up rumors.

In fact some people tell broker, "Give me some blue chip stock reported about to split 4-1, so I can get rid of it NOW."

Is This Trip Necessary?

Inside Labor

By Victor Riesel

You can run across the brothers Reuther on a global front almost anywhere from the Rio Grande to the Rhine. Usually it's either the oldest, Walter, or the youngest, Victor. If you want the brother in the middle—Roy Reuther—you have to look Stateside.

Right on the Potomac, in fact, early each weekday morning, he is at his desk in the sixth floor of the national AFL-CIO headquarters—directing and programming a drive to get 20 million citizens registered and 37 million voters to the polls, especially in the big cities where working people live.

This sprawling assignment of Roy Reuther's—shyest and most unassuming and unpublicized of the three brothers—won't make headlines until the morning after next election day. Then it may develop that Roy Reuther's "operation registration" has affected national politics by swinging millions to the polls to vote on the careers of such men as Nelson Rockefeller, Richard Nixon, George Romney, Gov. Pat Brown and New York's Mayor Wagner. Also President Kennedy's strength in Congress.

There are at least 50 districts where the Democrats or Republicans won by from 1 to 5 per cent.

ROY REUTHER points out that, strangely enough, it is in the big cities that people stay away from the polls in droves. In New York, for example, 2 1/4 million citizens of voting age did not cast a ballot in the last presidential election. This is 42 per cent of the adult population there. In Chicago's Cook County, 823,000 citizens did not vote. John Kennedy, remember, took Illinois by less than 9,000 votes.

Reuther, whose official title, now that he has been lend-leased by the Auto Workers Union to the national AFL-CIO, is national director of voter registration. He says that 25 per cent of the people did not vote in Los Angeles County—enough to swing the state in any direction.

In Philadelphia, 396,000 did not vote and in Detroit, 466,000 ignored election day. The story is the same in other cities.

"Why not," asks Roy Reuther, "make it possible to register in every fire station, every city library, police station, high school and public building."

"Why not have public servants set up a continuing staff, which would go door to door registering on the spot if you can't get the people to some central registration office in their working neighborhoods?"

ROY REUTHER, who is working with such non-partisan groups as the American Heritage Foundation to create citizen registration committees, operates out of the headquarters of labor's Committee on Political Education (COPE). Through his unit he pulsates widespread imaginative political machinery. This ranges from Negro "house captains" to specially produced films. In Cleveland the other week, for example, the Negro American Labor Council dovetailed its activities with COPE. With labor's financial help the Negro organization will attempt to set up its house captain network in 31 cities.

Its technique will be the enrollment of superintendents or janitors in every apartment house in every Negro community from coast to coast. The "super" will be the house captain—and it will be his task to get every family to register and vote.

THIS OPERATION will attempt to reach into the homes of every urban Negro family in the land. It could be done for $324,000 according to Joe Overton, the Negro group's executive vice president.

As for the motion picture approach, there is the three-part film "People and Politics." Cost—$25,000. Technique—it can be split into three 10-minute parts for TV broadcasts. Or it can be used by lecturers. Or it can be fitted together as a "full length" movie for showing at union meetings.

Featuring George Meany, it states why labor is in politics. Why folks should register. And why they should get out the vote—and how.

There is no doubt that all this will bring new millions to the ballot booths. There is no doubt that these millions can make or break our biggest political names—and even the congressional strength of Mr. Kennedy himself.

That's why the strategists got started early over at labor's national headquarters.

Were they morbid or sanguine? Editors are teetery on this because it's their job to collect the evidence at both extremes of the human mood. They are likely to succumb to the evidence of the moment, becoming overhopeful and underhopeful by fits and starts.

In New Orleans they first were encouraged to be underhopeful by the Jenkin Lloyd Jones, editor of the Tulsa Tribune. His jeremiad about the awful shape we're in has made him in demand as a speaker. There's always a boom market for gloom and foreboding.

Editor Jenkins is good at satisfying this market because he is a skilled phrase-maker, with a flair for colorful expressions like the title of his speech—"The Stomach-Turning Point."

He is gagging on all the things he says have gone wrong with the world in our time and particularly with our part of the world. When you listen to his recital, which he carries on expertly, with phrase and flavor, you need to stay wide awake because he is tricking you with generalizations.

If you're in a mood to be morbid, the guy can make you feel like jumping down a well. Even if you're not inclined to feel morbid he can make you wonder if you've been misreading the evidence that this is the best of all possible worlds. Editor Jones is making a strong bid to become the leading

What is even worse, however, is that many guests probably did not recognize it as a gag. They thought they were donating to help the mentally ill.

Dear Ann: I need your opinion. Maybe I'm the one who is crazy. Or can it be that I have no sense of humor?

Recently I attended a card party at the home of a friend, who is supposed to be a member of the socially elite. This is what happened. After the cards and refreshments, she brought out a tin can on which was pasted a homemade label.

It read, "Please Help the Mentally Ill. Give or I'll Kill You." The guests reached into their purses and every woman present dropped in some coins or pushed a dollar bill through the slot. When the other women left I turned to the hostess and asked, "What is that money REALLY for?"

She replied with a perfectly straight face, "I started it as a gag and I've had a barrel of fun. I've also collected a lot of money. I'm going to buy a new bedspread."

I think this is the height of crudeness. My husband thought it was funny. What's your opinion?—E AND M.

Dear E and M: I think it's appalling. Mental illness is nothing to joke about. The hostess is a clod.

Federal Pay Hikes

By DAVID LAWRENCE

JFK Ignores Own Doctrine for Wage Stability

In these days when "non-inflationary" means that it's all right for wage costs to go up but that it is sinful to increase prices, the latest move by the administration to boost pay scales among government workers is just beginning to attract attention.

President Kennedy has asked Congress to increase the wages of government workers by about $1.1 billion a year in separate stages over a period of three years. This amounts to a 10.2 per cent increase from the present scale.

A comparable increase in the rates of private wages and salaries would cost private business about $23.5 billion a year.

The U.S. Civil Service Commission has issued a comparison of federal salaries with those in various occupations. It is based on a Department of Labor study of professional, administrative, technical and clerical pay.

Up to now private business in some instances has had a higher wage rate in the higher brackets of clerical employees, and the government has regularly maintained a better position in the lower brackets. Now, however, if government rates go up, private business will find itself confronted with the necessity of pushing up many of its wage and salary scales.

President Kennedy's bill provides that, even when the salaries of government workers and those in private business reach approximately the same level, there must be an annual survey and adjustment of federal salaries to keep them equal to or above the private level.

Fringe benefits provided by the government are at least as generous as and often better than those granted to salaried workers in industry. The government worker, for example, is permitted to accumulate unused sick leave.

Under the proposed schedules, office boys who at present get $3.521 a year in government, as compared with $3.119 in private industry, would go up to $3.641.

A chief personnel director in government who now gets $12,745 would go up to $15,285, as compared with $14,532 in private business. Nearly 41 per cent of the stenographers in private business in America will be getting less than the proposed government minimum. It means, therefore, an upward pressure on wage scales inside industry and business.

THE ARGUMENT isn't whether these pay rates are justified in either case. If it be assumed that wage rates for white collar workers are, generally speaking, too low, the question is how industry and business are to get the additional funds to pay for their increases. The federal government has it easy. It merely gets Congress to increase the debt limit when tax receipts aren't enough to pay for federal spending.

Private industry, however, can only raise its prices or go broke. This is what is sometimes described as a wage-price spiral. President Kennedy has called for "stability" in both wages and prices. But he seems to have ignored his own doctrine as he asks Congress to raise wage levels in government.

It will be argued that the government workers have been lagging behind and that all the administration is trying to do is to "catch up." But that was precisely the language of the U. S. Steel Corporation as it recently called for a "partial catch-up" on its wage costs through a small price increase.

Those who may not realize how closely related government pay scales can be to private industry need only take note of a telegram just sent by 157 printing firms in Washington to President Kennedy and members of a committee in Congress. It reads as follows:

"Report of proposed 24 cents per hour increase to composing room employees at the government printing office is shocking. This compares with average increase of 9.3 cents per hour for same craft in commercial contracts negotiated throughout the United States in the last six months. Such proposed increase of 6.8 per cent contradicts administration policy of non-inflationary increases and would have nationwide impact."

FOR THE LAST 14 years it has been customary for the government printing office to use a weighted average of the union scales in 24 leading cities as compiled by the U.S. Department of Labor. Now the formula has been changed to include the higher rates of pay among night workers and the monetary value of fringe benefits. This puts the private printing establishments in Washington on the spot and must inevitably result in increased prices to the public—unless the President steps in. Certainly there has been no consideration given to any productivity guidelines in this case.

The government's role in fixing wage costs is far reaching. Congress, which has the power to approve or disapprove the wage increases for government employees, is anxious to help the workers get better pay. The real point is whether Congress will help employers in private business to get higher prices, or whether the profit squeeze will continue to become more and more acute, thus forcing many marginal concerns out of business and leaving the field to the larger companies. Unemployment will thereby be increased.

News Evaluation

By TRUMAN TWILL

A coincidence of programming gave members of the American Society of Newspaper Editors a chance to make up their minds on a teetery issue last week in New Orleans.

Were they morbid or sanguine? Editors are teetery on this because it's their job to collect the evidence at both extremes of the human mood. They are likely to succumb to the evidence of the moment, becoming overhopeful and underhopeful by fits and starts.

In New Orleans they first were encouraged to be underhopeful by the Jenkin Lloyd Jones, editor of the Tulsa Tribune. His jeremiad about the awful shape we're in has made him in demand as a speaker. There's always a boom market for gloom and foreboding.

Jeremiah of the typewriter set. He can sing the blues as well as write them.

Before the convention ended the sanguine point of view was presented as ably as the morbid point of view had been sketched in by editor Jones. The speaker was James Reston, chief of the Washington bureau of The New York Times.

He had been invited to speak because of the way he felt about Col. John Glenn—that here was the best of America brought into focus with historic clarity—that here was a fair sample of the U.S. product. To Reston, Glenn and the other astronauts are not supermen but typical Americans.

He is sanguine about the United States, not morbid. In his view, this country has lapsed into hypochondria and needs to climb on the couch for psychoanalysis.

In his view, newspapers have been following a hole-in-the-head policy by handling news about violence, betrayal, corruption and cheating as if the world were a police blotter beat.

The press has been misleading its readers into thinking nothing ever goes right and the United States always loses—that the bad guys always win. Reston, who gets around more than most editors and has earned status as one of the best observers and writers of his era, suggests we need to do a better job of evaluating the evidence.

Utilities Group Studies Increase In Phone Rates

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—After concluding hearings with an unusual late afternoon session Wednesday, the Utilities Commission took under advisement the request of Commonwealth Telephone Co. to raise its rates in Southeastern Ohio.

There was no indication when a decision would be rendered in the case, which first came before the commission in December 1960.

Most of the final day's testimony consisted of cross-examination of Paul A. Betty of New York, assistant vice president for finance of General Telephone and Electronics Corp., Common wealth's parent company.

Athens Mayor Raymond Shepherd, Athens Councilman Richard B. Rypma and Harold Greiner of Guysville appeared briefly and presented petitions and letters objecting to the rate hikes, estimated at $465,822 annually.

The Athens petition, containing about 100 signatures, called the requested increases "unfair, unjust and unnecessary." It said, "There are no facts to back up the proposed increase."

The other petition, which Greiner said contained signatures of 278 of Guysville's 297 telephone subscribers, listed three objections:

"1. That the tariff and costs be kept at the present rate of $3.50 per month status quo.

"2. That intra-state tolls be kept at the present rates status quo.

"3. That if the Commonwealth Telephone Co. cannot provide the service we are presently receiving at the present rates subscribed, (it) shall be relieved of its franchises."

The petitions and accompanying letters from subscribers complaining of service inadequacies or protesting the rate hike were entered into the file but not into evidence by the commission. Betty's testimony concerned details of how the company determined the basis on which to ask for new rates.

The Social Notebook

"TREES AND ARBOR DAY" was the topic of a talk presented by Mrs. F. W. Hone when the Garden Therapy Committee of the Salem Garden Club met Monday afternoon with Mrs. Betty Panetzott's special class at Fourth Street School.

Roll call was answered by naming a tree. Mrs. Hone related the story of how Arbor Day began 90 years ago, closing with the poem, "When I Plant a Tree."

The class drew pictures of various trees to put in their scrapbooks.

A surprise gift for Mother's Day was made and Mrs. John Botu, therapy chairman, assisted members in planting flower seeds in colored egg shells.

The children will participate in planting a flowering tree on the school grounds at the next meeting May 17.

PRE-NUPTIAL FESTIVITIES are being held in honor of Miss Ruth Arlene Beiling, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Beiling of Leetonia, who will become the bride of John Mark Roose, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. Richard Roose of Leetonia, Sunday.

A shower was given recently in the OSI hall, with Mrs. Robert Brown, Mrs. Manuel Beiling, Mrs. William Beiling Jr. and Mrs. Wilson Corna as hostesses.

Members of the Tuesday Night Card Club honored Miss Beiling with a dinner party Tuesday evening at Timberlane.

Miss Mary Ellen Ipp will serve as hostess Saturday evening when members of the bride's card club will have a shower for her in the Pythian Sisters hall in Washingtonville.

"Open church" will be observed for the 3:30 p.m. ceremony in St. Paul's Lutheran Church in Leetonia, and invitations have been issued for the reception in the church social rooms.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Richard Roose will be hosts to the rehearsal dinner Saturday evening at the Wick Hotel in Lisbon.

SALEM CITY HOSPITAL Nurses Alumnae entertained members of the Ohio State Nurses District 111 recently in the dining room of the City Hospital. Mrs. R. Martsoff, teacher at the Elkton school for retarded children, was guest speaker, and following the program was presented a check for the advancement of the school.

The alumnae association will meet at 8 p.m. Thursday in the Hannah E. Mullins School for Nurses. Following the business meeting cards will be the order of the evening and each member attending is to bring a "white elephant" to be used as a prize. Mrs. Kenneth Jones and Mrs. Virginia Worman will be chairmen of the refreshment committee.

THE SALEM Junior Saxon Club will sponsor an all Saxon basketball tournament beginning at 7 p.m. Saturday in the Salem Junior High School, to be followed by a dance at the Saxon Club. Steve Navoyosky's Orchestra will play. Miss Dorothy Spack is reservations chairman for the victory banquet to be served at 1 p.m. Sunday in the Saxon Hall, when trophies will be presented.

THE STORY OF THE "Lord's Last Supper" and explanation of the "Lord's Prayer" were presented by Mrs. Steve Cook when members of the Linnea A. Nelson Missionary Circle of the First Baptist Church met recently in the home of Mrs. Ralph Barnard of 942 Jones Drive.

Mrs. Carl Sheen presented devotions using the theme "Alive With Him."

The group will meet May 17 in the home of Mrs. William Hayes of RD 1, Lisbon.

NOMINATIONS WERE MADE from the floor for a slate of officers to be presented for election at the next meeting when members of the Eagles Auxiliary met Monday evening in the hall with Mrs. Herman DeCrow presiding. Final plans were made for the rummage sale Thursday and Friday.

The prize for the "craziest" hat entered in the competition was won by Mrs. James Dickey and Mrs. Harold Burrier won the door prize.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Nettie Her, Mrs. Betty Kring, Mrs. Burrier and Mrs. Margaret Boals.

A Mother's Day coverdish dinner will be an event of the next meeting at 6:30 p.m. May 14. Members are to bring a casserole and table service, rolls and coffee will be furnished by the committee comprised of Mrs. Leo Kline, Mrs. John Ivan, Mrs. John Elliott and Mrs. DeCrow.

Mr. and Mrs. Elbert S. Vincent of E. Third St. recently visited their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. George Lord of Philadelphia.

Deaths and Funerals

Edward W. Cline

Edward William Cline, 81, of RD 1, Salem, died at his home at 11:15 a.m. Wednesday of a heart attack. He had been ill one year.

Born May 21, 1880, in Princeton, Pa., he was a son of James Henry and Catherine Shear Cline. He married the former Nora C. Carnes in Salem on Sept. 16, 1910. She preceded him in death Oct. 11, 1945.

Surviving are two sons, Robert M. and Ellis D. Cline, both of RD 1, Salem; and two grandchildren, Edward and David.

Mr. Cline was the last of nine children. He lived in this vicinity for 55 years, coming here from New Castle. Retired, he had worked in Salem shops and cared for an orchard.

He was a member of the Concord Presbyterian Church.

Services will be 2 p.m. Saturday at the Arbaugh-Pearce Funeral Home, in charge of Rev. Clarence Sekerak, pastor of the East Goshen Friends Church. Burial will be in Hope Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home from 7 to 9 Friday evening.

Snauffer Funeral

COLUMBIANA Services for Frank Snauffer, 88, a former Columbian resident who died at 5 a.m. Wednesday at the Odd Fellows Home in Springfield, will be at 1:30 p.m. Saturday at the Seedy-Bellhart Funeral Home.

Rev. Harold Theidt, pastor of Grace United Church of Christ, will officiate. Burial will be in Columbian Cemetery. Friends may call Friday evening at the funeral home.

Mr. Snauffer was a lifetime resident of Columbian, having operated a furnace repair shop here for 45 years. He was born Nov. 9, 1873, a son of George and Mary Beam Snauffer.

He was a member of the Grace United Church of Christ.

Survivors included his wife, the former Josephine Boyd; two sons, Clarence of Miami, Fla., and Melvin of Massillon; a sister, Mrs. Rita Schiller of Gary, Ind.; two brothers, Ed of Pittsburgh, Pa., and Fred of Enon Valley, Pa.; eight grandchildren and 16 great-grandchildren.

Frank E. DeRhodes

LISBON Frank E. DeRhodes, 79, of Leetonia RD 1, died Wednesday evening at University Hospital in Columbus, where he had been a patient for the past three weeks. He had been in failing health since January.

Born Oct. 19, 1882, in Fairfield Township, a son of Cyrus and Ida Crook DeRhodes, he spent his entire life in this vicinity. He worked in produce markets and also had a greenhouse at one time.

He was a member of the First Methodist Church, had been the Men's Bible class teacher for over 25 years and was a member of the Junior Order of American Mechanics.

He married the former Noral Williamson. She survives, along with one daughter, Mrs. Grace Granger of Leetonia RD 1; two sons, Clyde of Poland and Merle of Leetonia RD 2; one sister, Mrs. Ola Ward of Columbian; one brother, Wilbur, died in 1939. Sixteen grandchildren and 33 great-grandchildren also survive.

Services will be held Saturday at 1:30 p.m. at the Eells-Leggett Funeral Home by the Rev. William L. Brown. Burial will be in the Lisbon Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home Friday from 2 to 4 and 7 to 9 p.m.

president, Wayne Baurer; secretary, Ryan Snyder; treasurer, John Fitzpatrick; and directors, Ed Dillon, George Keller, Al Swanson, Len Olenik, Charles Cope, Sam Lindsay, Jr., Robert Powers, Wilbur Beck and Ray McCormick.

Retiring officers are Ed Altomare, John Elder, John Kimpel, C. Richard Fox, and Eugene Crawford.

John Elder, retiring officer, introduced the guest speaker, Henry Joseph Carr, lecturer and humorist.

75 At Bliss Company

To Be Honored Tonight

Seventy-five longtime employees of the E. W. Bliss Co. will receive special recognition tonight at the 10th annual party for veteran workers at the Salem Golf Club.

Personnel Assistant Deane Osborne, who will be toastmaster, said a social hour will be held from 6 to 7 p.m. with the awards dinner to follow. Special awards will go to three 35-year men. About 115 are expected at the event.

Miss Ethel Ackelson

MINERVA Miss Ethel Ackelson, 80, of RD 3, Minerva, died at her residence at 5:30 a.m. today following an extended illness.

A lifetime resident of the Minerva area, she formerly was employed at the French-Saxon China Co. in Sebring and at the Cronin China Co. in Minerva.

She is survived by a sister, Miss Lucille Ackelson, of the residence.

Services will be 2 p.m. Saturday at the Gotschall - Hutchison Funeral Home with Rev. Herbert Hamburger officiating. Burial will be in Liberty Cemetery.

Friends may call Friday evening from 7 to 9.

Blacksmith

Benson developed an intuition about horses over the years. One horse, very smart, was brought in. Within minutes, Benson knew that another man had attempted to shoe the horse, that the horse had refused to be worked on, and the blacksmith had given up.

Benson easily put shoes on three hooves, but the last one, the right front, gave him difficulty. Each time Benson raised the hoof, it would be slammed down hard and fast. Three times Benson persevered, the third time getting such a grip on it, the horse had to submit. From then on, the horse was easily fitted with shoes. "A smart horse knows when he's been bettered, just like he knows when you're afraid of him," Benson claims.

A FEW HORSES FOUGHT so stubbornly against shoeing that they never did recover. One such horse was a beautiful dapple-grey which dreaded the sight of shoes.

He could not be constrained even in the "electric chair," but had to be thrown to the ground and tied with ropes. Before the complete operation was over, the big draft, tied to a tree, was wallowing in a puddle of perspiration, so desperate were his efforts to rise. He never recovered from the ordeal and was finally bought by a dealer who declared he made a mint of money on this animal, by repeatedly buying him back and selling him again.

Few of Benson's four-legged customers weren't this pathetic, however. Most stoically submitted to shoeing, with a "let's-get-this-over-with" attitude.

Mules, once common in Columbian and surrounding counties, were frequent customers of Benson's.

"There're just two kinds of mules. Good or bad. If they're good, they're good all the time; but if they're bad, well . . ."

Once he had a horse, a kind of daddy-long-legs, that refused to be taken in by the stocks. Try as he would, Benson could not get the hip strap in the right place. Finally, after kicking a piece of equipment clean through the opposite window with his mighty arms, the horse sat down like a dog on his hunkers. That was the end of the day's work. There was no getting shoes on him that day.

BENSON, A LOVER OF horses since his boyhood days on his father's farm only two miles from his present home, always wanted to be a blacksmith. But he was 30 years old before his dreams were finally realized. As a young man, he thought he would work for a few days for a neighboring farmer. "At 50 cents a day," he said. Instead of staying a few days, he kept on for seven years, when his salary was doubled to $1 a day.

After a short apprenticeship under Phil Baker in Salineville, Benson set up his own shop. The price at that time was $1.20 for four shoes. Later it rose to $4 for regular shoes or $6 for patented shoes, an improvement over the earlier types since only pegs, not the whole shoe, had to be replaced. He says shoes are no better or worse today than they ever were.

A specialty of Benson's was a shoe designed for horses crippled by "corns" on their hooves. In such cases the blacksmith shaped a shoe with a brace across the usually open end in order to adjust the weight on the hoof and allow the sores to heal.

What do horse owners do now with so few blacksmiths around? Many farmers are doing their own shoeing, Benson says.

FOLKS SOMETIMES ASK him how many shoes he put on in a day. A reporter once wrote that he shod 100 horses in a day! "What I meant was that my helper and I put on 100 shoes in a day," attaching 40 to 50 shoes is a good day's work for one man; 50 is too darn many, he says. He worked from dawn to dark, often hammering away by lantern light.

When Benson wasn't shoeing animals, he was making wagon wheels, wagon boxes and repairing buggies and wagons. He still

Contract For W. State St. Job Could Be Let By Fall

Engineer, City Officials Study Overpass

A bridge designer for Rack-off Associates of Columbus, engineers for Salem's proposed $1.3 million overpass project at the W. State St. grade crossing, was in town Wednesday to inspect the site where the bridge would go over the railroad tracks.

has many of the near-ancient tools he worked with.

Besides blacksmith and farm work, the only other occupations he has pursued were a stint of about two years at the Summitville Face Brick Co. and a longer spell as custodian, with his wife, at Franklin Township School, just a stone's throw from the house he built 53 years ago.

When the couple observe their 53rd wedding anniversary Friday, they'll have many happy memories to mull over. Many of them are connected with their son, Paul of Kensington, two daughters, Mrs. Rose Bennett of Pittsburgh and Mrs. Pauline Blaschke of East Hartford, Conn., and four grandchildren.

Salem Teacher Gives Talk to Administrators

LISBON — Rudy Marosher, teacher at the Salem Technical school, was guest speaker at the meeting of 25 members of the Columbian County Administrators Discussion group Wednesday evening at United Local School.

In other business, the group discussed year-end reports which are sent to the state, and discussed the new communism course which will be taught next year to seniors in all county schools.

Truck Spills Load On Lisbon Square

LISBON — A tractor trailer truck from Erie, Pa., spilled its load on the sidewalks on the square while making a left turn Wednesday off Route 45 onto Route 30.

Chief Dalton Pike said the driver told him he swung wide to avoid a car and then the sideboards of the truck gave way, allowing the load of roofing material to fall on the sidewalk.

Y-Teen Dance Set At Beaver Local School

ROGERS — "Cherry Pink and Apple Blossom Time" is the theme of a Y-Teen-sponsored dance to be held Saturday night from 8 to 11 at the Beaver Local High School gym.

A queen will be crowned from the senior girls present. Lynn Dick and Pearl Nally are in charge of decorating. Cindy Wright heads the refreshment committee.

Booher Will Face Trial Next Monday

LISBON — Prosecutor G. William Brokaw said today that he will begin criminal trials this term of court with James Booher, 25, of Poland, indicted for the armed robbery of Ferguson's Market on Route 7, March 21 as the first defendant.

Booher pleaded not guilty to the charge at arraignment before Common Pleas Judge Joel H. Sharp, who will preside over criminal trials this term.

A venire of 30 prospective jurors were summoned for duty Monday, along with those remaining from the first 50 called for grand jury.

If everything moves on schedule, it is hoped to have the project under contract by sometime in September, the mayor reports. Eriksson said it will take approximately six months to build the bridge section of the overpass.

The total project, including construction of the approaches, is expected to take about nine months, he said.

The next step is to have the Federal Bureau of Public Roads approve the engineer's design and the location. If the project is approved, the federal government will pay approximately $850,000, with the state, the Pennsylvania Railroad and the city sharing the rest of the cost.

The city's total share has been estimated at $65,000 which would be financed from the income tax capital improvements fund.

The project may cost less than the estimated $1.3 million since it was recently decided that a 28-foot width for the bridge will be adequate instead of the 32 feet originally planned.

Traffic Safety Committee Cautions United School Board

The Columbian County Traffic Safety Committee Wednesday evening heard three members of the citizens committee of United Local School District concerning the proposed location of a new school across the road from the present building on State Route 9.

The safety committee, meeting in Lisbon, went on record with the following resolution:

"Experience elsewhere in Ohio has demonstrated that schools which are constructed on opposite sides of any main thoroughfare create a traffic hazard.

"School bus traffic moving from one side of the thoroughfare to the other at direct right angles to traffic on the thoroughfare and resultant inevitable foot traffic constitutes an extreme traffic hazard.

"The traffic safety committee abhors the creating of any traffic hazard in this county, and we urge that the Board of Education of the United Local School District exercise great caution and restraint in the planning of school facilities in order that every possible hazard to the lives of children and adults may be avoided."

In other business, the County Traffic Committee set May as safety car check month. The committee recommends all car owners to have their cars checked by local authorities who are handling the traffic checks.

Moose Lodge Gets Membership Citation

Herbert W. Hileman, national director of Moose, has cited the Salem Moose Lodge as the first to make their new membership quota under the Moosehaven 40th anniversary campaign.

Quota for the local lodge was set at 50 and 63 new members have recently joined the organization.

Summitville Plans Saturday Dinner

SUMMITVILLE — Plans were completed for the annual public swiss steak dinner to be served from 5 to 8 p.m. Saturday in the social hall of St. John's Church, when trustees of Franklin Township Volunteer Fire Department met in the fire house Wednesday evening.

Committee members will meet this evening to make final preparations.

Members of the church will have a benefit card party immediately following the supper. Mrs. Andres Ocel will be chairman in charge of arrangements.

Ranger 4

personnel that Operation Moon Track was in progress.

In a building at the base of the antenna, observers watching a closed-circuit television screen saw the cross-hairs of a simulated gun sight slowly approach the left side of the moon.

The cross-hairs indicated Ranger 4's position as it streaked through space. The seven-foot-long vehicle itself was, of course, too small to be detected visually.

Then the cross-hairs of the gun sight touched the edge of the moon.

The impact area is on part of the moon never seen from the earth. The moon always keeps the same side toward this planet.

So the only way to look at the back side is to go there.

The area was photographed in 1959 by a Russian Lunik. Television shots relayed to earth showed the area to be a rough upland, devoid of the great, flat areas—called seas—visible on the moon's front side.

Ranger was supposed to do much more than just smash into the moon.

Its big job was to take television pictures of the moon's surface. It also carried instruments to measure the temperatures on the moon (believed to range from 230 below to 260 degrees above, on the Fahrenheit scale) and to measure moonquakes. Readings were to be radioed to earth.

Because a timer in the capsule failed, energy-seeking solar cells weren't exposed to the sun's rays, and a resultant loss of power ruined plans of jet propulsion laboratory scientists for the experiments.

It was supposed to eject a balsa-wood encased ball as it swung low over the moon's surface. The ball contained the carefully padded instruments to measure temperatures and moonquakes.

Scientists hoped the instruments would help settle the long-standing scientific controversy over whether the moon got its pockmarked surface from erupting volcanoes, falling meteorites, or both.

Is Age Mellowing Communist Premier?

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — Soviet Premier Khrushchev seems quiet, perhaps because he's getting older. This, if true, would be comforting to the Western nervous system that he has kept a tingle.

This bubbly and imaginative man, just turned 68, has been notoriously impatient with delay and stuffed shirts. He acted as if under compulsion to get the show on the road, no matter what show.

But now for months, compared with the earlier Khrushchev, he has seemed rather withdrawn. There has been less flamboyance, in word and deed, less animal spirit, less thunder in his threats of lightning.

At least he seems that way to this writer, although it is easy to read too much into his periods of quietude between escapades. He has had them before and came charging back like a refreshed bear.

An example of the slowing down in the Khrushchevian tempo—if that's what it is—was laid on the table this week with release of an interview he gave an American publisher, Gardner Cowles.

In the past Khrushchev seemed obsessed with the need for a summit, without such preliminaries as a meeting of foreign ministers to see if there could be any agreement before the top men got together.

But the interview with Cowles showed he has changed his mind. Now he says there should be a Kennedy-Khrushchev meeting only if their diplomats can first negotiate agreements or if war threatens.

This doesn't sound like the bouncy, hard-driving Khrushchev of old. Nor was it his only recent change of heart, although it's always been tough to figure whether his many changes were in him or just in his tactics.

In an interview with American columnist Walter Lippmann in 1961 Khrushchev said Russia had never done any nuclear testing underground, and never would.

because there is no value in small tactical weapons.

By April 13, 1962, he had changed. At that time, refusing the kind of nuclear test ban agreement the West wanted and knowing Kennedy would resume testing if he didn't, Khrushchev said:

In the future Russia would match all tests carried out by the West—whether underground, in the atmosphere, or in outer space. So his moments of calm after crises don't necessarily mean that he is getting tired.

Meanwhile, he's had some problems at home in this past year, despite some spectacular successes like orbiting men around the earth. One of them is the fact that the Russians have a miserable food supply.

This alone would be enough to make many a leader a little self-conscious about directing the destiny of the world before he could feed his own people better. It may have had a sobering effect on Khrushchev.

Western leaders will begin having uneasy moments if they believe Khrushchev is getting tired and may not be around long. At least they know how to deal with him. They may not be able to deal with his successor.

SEAWAY TRADE OPENS

CLEVELAND (AP) — St. Lawrence Seaway trade this season was ushered in with a flourish here Wednesday as the first ocean vessel of the year docked.

The Virgilia, of the Hamburg-Chicago line, slipped into her berth, and her skipper, Capt. Wilie Wendt, was greeted by scores of onlookers and a civic-welcome committee. The Virgilia's 200-ton cargo included a 13,000-pound yacht, wines, steel and beer.

FIND MISSING BOY

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—State police picked up Raymond Lee Blackberry, one of two 14-year-old Akron boys missing since Monday, near Montgomery, W. Va., Wednesday night.

The West Virginia officers, who picked up the Blackberry youth as he was hitch-hiking, said he told them his companion, Gary J. Donohoe, was headed south from Charleston, W. Va.

BAG OHIO VARMINT — A full-blooded coyote, a rarity in Ohio, was felled by gunsmith Bob Edwards of Irwin, Ohio, left, in Union County. With Edwards and the varmint is game protector Ron Bailey.

Cub Pack 2

Den 5 presented the flag ceremony to open the meeting of Cub Scout Pack 2 Monday evening in the social rooms of the First Methodist Church.

Short skits were presented by the different dens as follows: Den 4, "Mister Banjo"; Den 5, "Easter Parade"; Den 2, "Hawaiian Hula"; Den 3, "City Slickers"; and Den 6, "Yankee Doodle".

A skit on "Ragtime Jazz" was presented by the Webelos.

Riley gave an imitation of Mitch Miller and led the group in singing several songs, accompanied by Janet Fusco.

At the close of the program the following achievement awards were given: Bobcat, Russell Saylor and Danny Steffel; wolf, Jim Swetye-gold arrow, Walter Hendricks-gold arrow; bear, Dave Sechler-cloth and pin-gold arrow, Larry Kachner-cloth and pin, Gary Bauman-gold arrow; Lion, Rick Alexander-cloth and pin, and Tommy Valentino-cloth and pin.

Webelos, Jim Weber, Rick Alexander and Tommy Valentino; den-ner stripe, Greg Oesch and John Phillips; service stars for one year, Greg Oesch and Dave Sechler.

Dens 2, 3, 4 and 6 had perfect attendance.

Cub Master Carl Sheen announced that at the next meeting May 28 a turtle race will be featured.

PROFITS ANNOUNCED

CINCINNATI (AP) — The Taft Broadcasting Co. profits for the fiscal year ending March 31 were $1,900,000, the company reported Wednesday. This was $320,000 higher than the profits for the last corresponding period. Earnings per share rose 20 cents to $1.20 at the same time.

Chevy II Nova Station Wagon—with Body by Fisher finesse that fits big families and small parking places.

NEW CHEVY II NOVA WAGON

Liveliness and loads of fun at a low, low price!

Thoughts of warm weather beginning to whet your wanderlust? Well, the buys are warming up, too, at your Chevrolet dealer's. And what beautiful ways he's got for getting away! Eleven new-size Chevy II models. Fourteen regal Jet-smooth Chevrolets. Plus a nimble crew of sporty Corvairs. So come on in and pick the one for your kind of fun. You won't find a better selection of sizes and sizzle anywhere.

Who ever thought a wagon could have such a compact price—and still be so doggone generous with load space. This one's got a longer load floor than any compact—over 9 ft. with second seat and tailgate down. Plenty of room and plenty of zoom (thanks to the spunky six in this class Nova). And there are two other just-as-roomy Chevy II wagons to choose from—including America's lowest priced 3-seat station wagon.*

*Based on manufacturers' suggested retail prices.

NEW IMPALA CONVERTIBLE—You're in plenty good company if you pick this breezy beauty. It's America's favorite top-down way to travel. And it has the kind of room, richness and riding comfort that have many an expensive car wondering how Chevrolet does it.

NEW BEL AIR 4-DOOR SEDAN—Get a load of this one's clean-etched styling and spacious comfort, and you've got a good idea why Chevrolet is America's most popular buy. Most popular at trade-in time, too, since Chevrolet traditionally returns the highest resale dollar in its field.*

*Based on used car prices published in the National Automobile Dealers Association USED CAR GUIDE.

NEW CHEVY II 300 4-DOOR SEDAN—Luxury and liveliness never came together so beautifully at such a low price. Room for a full-grown tribe of six—bag and baggage. Plus easy-riding Mono-Plate rear springs and other new ideas that won the Chevy II Car Life magazine's coveted Engineering Excellence Award.

NEW CORVAIR MONZA CLUB COUPE—It's as easy to handle as it is to own. Rally-proved steering and road-clinging traction. And—included in its budget-pleasing price—are front bucket seats, deep-twist carpeting and a whole raft of sporty features at no extra cost.

Adult probation officer Richard Rose was the speaker when the Women's Association of First Presbyterian Church met Tuesday at the church.

Group singing was led by Mrs. Donald Smith, with Mrs. Graham Kearney at the piano. Instrumental music was furnished by school students, Jodine Pilmer, Diana Boso, Mary Ann Ieropol and Kay Hayes. They were directed by Miss Camille Firestone.

Mrs. Paul T. Gerrard, president of the association, presided and the devotional period was in charge of Mrs. Richard Kennedy.

Members of the Naomi Circle served refreshments.

EAGLES AUXILIARY met Tuesday with Mrs. Grace Reisinger, president, in charge.

A letter of appreciation was read for the gift check in the amount of $32.96 which the auxiliary had sent in support of the mental health program.

Nomination of officers list was read by Mrs. Arilla Paulini in the absence of the chairman, Mrs. Elma Metz.

Mrs. Margaret Bruner and Mrs. Myrtle Rupp were thanked for serving as hostesses for April and the president appointed Mrs. Edna Ackerman and Mrs. Lorene Furrer as hostesses for May. The next meeting will be May 8.

Friendship Class of the First Methodist Church held its monthly meeting Tuesday at the home of Miss Dorothy Hildebrand of W. Pine St. Mrs. Merle Burson, the co-hostess, had the program.

Business was in charge of the president, Mrs. Charles Pike, and the group worked on favors to be used at the mother-daughter banquet at the church May 17.

May 22 is the date of the next meeting with Miss Jean Marsden of N. Market St. Mrs. Pike and Mrs. Eddie James will be assistant hostesses.

THE LISBON GARDEN CLUB went on record Tuesday to support the village operating levy.

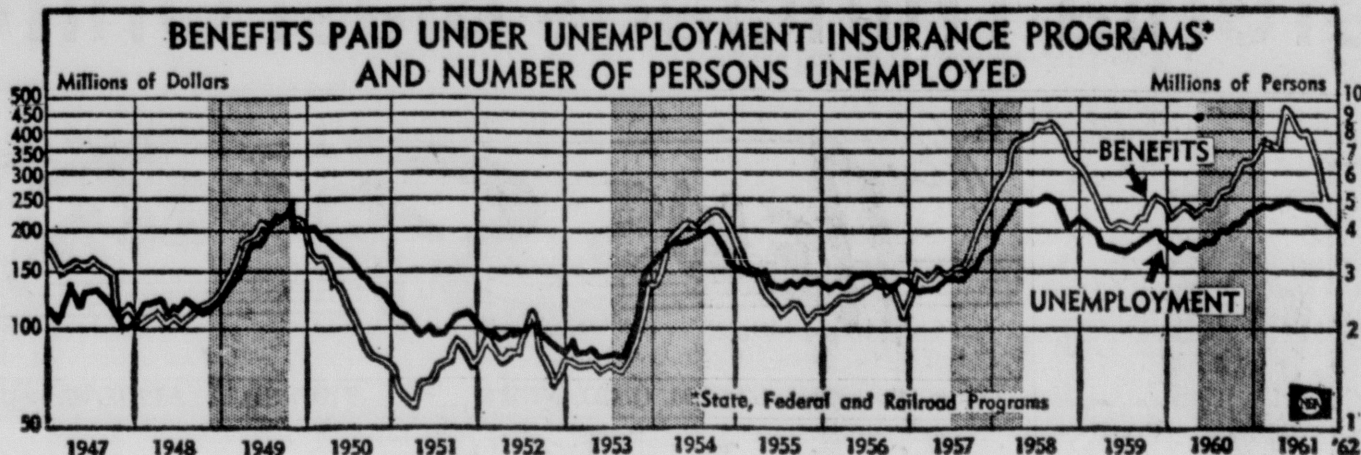

Ray Hempstead, village treasurer, and Mayor Dean Stockman were present to explain the financial picture of the village.

Meeting at the home of Mrs. George Nace, Jr. of Garfield St. Mrs. Walter Ewing presided. Plans were discussed in regard to holding a flower show in June.

Recent programs for the group have featured "Flowers of the World Over" and for Tuesday's program Mrs. Charles Wright talked on "Flowers of France".

Mrs. Leo Capehart of N. Market St. will receive the group May 15.

INSURING THE UNEMPLOYED — An important factor in American economic life is unemployment compensation, designed to cushion the effects of business recessions on both the individual and the community. Chart above, based on Labor Department data, traces the past 15-year history of state, federal and railroad unemployment insurance programs. Shaded bands indicate the four recessions which have occurred since 1946. The record shows that in times of high unemployment, benefits paid contribute a definite addition to purchasing power and operate as an economic stabilizer, damping the effects of recessions. In boom or boomlet periods, unemployment funds, raised by taxes on employers, are able to recover. Benefits rose sharply in 1957 and 1960 because of special temporary compensation programs, plus higher payment levels, and fell rapidly during the second half of 1961.

ing Workers Class of St. Jacob's Church Tuesday.

Mrs. Ed Carroll, president, was in charge and devotions were led by Mrs. Zita McArter and Mrs. Guy Frantz.

The class will pay one-half the tuition for two youths to attend the church camp near Sandusky this summer. The mother-daughter banquet will be held May 8.

The group enjoyed an interesting review of the book "The Preacher's Kids" given by Mrs. Elmer Detwiler of Columbiana. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Ivan Harrold, Mrs. Walter Sebrell and Mrs. Earl Girard.

Rev. and Mrs. Roger Eells and daughter Gay of Ironton, former Lisbon residents, spent Sunday and Monday visiting Mr. and Mrs. Harley Culler and other friends and relatives in the area.

Mrs. Ollie Carnes of N. Beaver

St. had as Easter guests her daughter and son, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Delaney of East Liverpool and Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Carnes of Lisbon Rd.

Mrs. A. E. Christopher of Vine St. visited the past several days with H. W. Schreiber and family of Bellevue, Pa.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Lipp, worthy matron and patron of Iva Chapter O.E.S. attended the annual inspection of chapter 190 in Canton.

Hurls Four Innings In 8-3 Win

Larsen's Relief Stint Saves Giants' Victory Over Bucs

By The Associated Press
Don (Perfect Game) Larsen, who had the world on a string in 1956 but was tied up in knots four years later, has successfully retraced his path and stepped in as a stopper for the pennant-hungry San Francisco Giants.

Elsewhere the Chicago Cubs knocked off the Los Angeles Dodgers 9-6, Milwaukee topped Philadelphia 7-2, Cincinnati added to the New York Mets' problems 7-1, and St. Louis and Houston played to a 5-5 tie in 17 innings. The game was halted by curfew and will have to be replayed.

The Cubs won it with four in the eighth off reliever Larry Sherry (1-1), Ernie Banks tying it 6-6 with his fourth home run and Andre Rodgers clinching it with a three-run homer. Rodgers wound up with five runs batted in and provided Don Elston (1-0) with the victory. The Dodgers built their edge on homers by Duke Snider and Willie Davis.

Purkey Gets Third Win For Reds 7-1

CINCINNATI (AP)—"Too bad the New York Mets could not stay around a while longer," an official of the Cincinnati Reds regretfully said today.

The National League champions defeated Casey Stengel's club 7-1 Wednesday night as Bob Purkey knuckled his way to his third triumph of the season without a defeat. He allowed only four hits.

Limits Senators To Five Hits, Homers

Multi-Talented Gene Conley Pitches Boston To 7-1 Win

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer
Towering Gene Conley, rescued from mayhem on the hardwoods by the arrival of the baseball season, is rewarding the Boston Red Sox with a quick start that could propel the right-hander to his best season in the majors.

The multi-talented Conley, 31, won his second in three decisions Wednesday, limiting Washington to five hits and smashing a two-run homer to aid his own cause in a 7-1 Red Sox triumph that sent the Senators reeling with their seventh consecutive defeat. It's one of the fastest starts of his nine-year career for the 6-foot-8 fire-baller who broke his left hand and jammed two fingers on his pitching hand while playing with New York in the American Basketball League this past season.

Southpaw Allows Only Four Hits

Belinsky Pitches Angels To 6-2 Win Over Tribe

LOS ANGELES (AP) — There were times this spring when it appeared Bo Belinsky's earned-run average might run into more figures than the serial number on his shocking-red Cadillac.

It is against this background of futility that students of the game are trying to assess the competence Belinsky has demonstrated since the American League season opened. Belinsky, a loser last season in the minors (9-10 at Little Rock), has made two starts for the Angels and won them both. In 15 innings, he has allowed only 9 hits and his earned run average is 1.80.

Colorado Expects 2-4 Year Penalty

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Colorado athletic director Harry Carlson expects a two to four year penalty for his school as the powerful and stern infractions committee of the National Collegiate Athletic Association reports today.

Wednesday night, he became the second Angel to pitch a complete game this season, allowing only four hits as Los Angeles broke a four-game losing streak by defeating Cleveland 6-2. He struck out eight, walked five and gave up only one earned run.

The Red Sox struck for five runs in the fourth against the Senators' rookie Jim Hannon (0-1), getting three on Frank Malzone's homer and two on Conley's shot. Gene had Washington blanked on two hits for seven innings before singles by Bob Johnson and Ken Reitzler and John Schaive's double brought a run across in the eighth.

There have been consistent reports that Colorado is in line for a severe penalty because of the alleged "slush fund" operated by former coach Everett (Sonny) Grandelius, who was fired as head coach of the Buffaloes on March 17 after giving Colorado its first Big Eight football crown last fall.

The Angels snapped the Indians' three-game winning streak with rookie right-hander Bo Belinsky (2-0) hurling a four-hit and allowing only one earned run. Leon Wagner's four inning homer off Pedro Ramos (0-1), making his first start since he was acquired by Cleveland in a trade with Minnesota, put Los Angeles ahead to stay.

Hector Lopez' two-run single with the bases loaded in the ninth capped a four-run rally that won it for the Yankees and Rollie Sheldon (1-0). The White Sox had built a 6-3 lead with a 17-hit attack that chased Whitey Ford as Jim Landis led the offensive with a homer, triple and double. The loser was Ed Fisher (0-2), working in relief of Juan Pizarro.

Carlson told newsmen he expected Colorado to be put on probation for two to four years.

There was speculation, however, that the NCAA might consider the fact that Colorado fired Grandelius and publicly exposed recruiting conditions following an NCAA probe.

There was another report Wednesday night that Missouri, also in the Big Eight conference, might be up for NCAA scrutiny for practically the same reasons.

The NCAA executive committee okayed a $5,000 appropriation to study the possibility of establishing a national scholastic minimum for college athletes.

Al Vignon Paces Bears To Fifth Straight Win

Leetonia High School's undefeated track team rolled to its fifth straight victory Wednesday afternoon as it handed visiting United High its fourth loss in as many starts 75 1/2-42 1/2.

Coach Ike Farrah's thinclads swept to first in 10 of the 14 events carded yesterday, winning in every event but the mile run, the 880-yard run, the mile relay and the pole vault.

The victorious Bears were paced by their versatile junior Al Vignon who took firsts in the shot put and the broad jump in addition to taking a third in the 220-yard dash and running a leg on Leetonia's winning half mile relay team.

Vignon won in the shot by pushing the iron ball 44.5. Pete Schweigert of United was second and Joe Gallo of Leetonia third. In the broad jump, Vignon accomplished a leap of 18-6 to beat out teammate Mike Burgess in second place and United's Bruce Hoyt in third.

THE WINNING Leetonia half mile relay team of Vignon, Rick Smith, Capt. Eric Painter and Paul Conrad toured the track twice in a winning time of 1:40.5. Senior Rick Smith was also a double individual winner for the Bears as he copped the 100-yard dash and 220-yard dash. Smith was clocked at 10.8 1/2 in the "century" and took the 220 in a time of 25 seconds flat. United's Hoyt took seconds in both races.

Coach Ray Russell's tough mile relay team of Gary Milliken, Ed Dangler, Dick Strong and Sid Isenschmidt continued undefeated in four meets with a time of 4:02.2.

Gene Metzgar of United also remained unbeaten in his specialty, the 880-yard run, when he toured the track twice in a 2:13.9 reading. Painter of Leetonia took second and John Sturgeon of United third.

Sturgeon gave United another first in the pole vault when he cleared the high bar at 9-6. Leetonia's fine corps of high jumpers were able to bring home another win in their specialty, however in a low height of only 5-4. Painter and Russ Lehman tied for the top mark, while United's Bob Kovach was third.

Leetonia swept the hurdles events, with Ray Hall bounding over the 120 highs in 17.8 1/2 and Conrad in the 180 lows in 22.7. Mike Burgess gave Leetonia its other first with a 57.3 running in the 440-yard dash. United's fourth victory came in the mile run, with Ken Zeigler hitting the tape first with a 5:06 time.

Leetonia's next meet is a triangular affair with Austintown Fitch and West Branch on the Bears' track Tuesday afternoon.

Two of Proudest Names In Majors

Robin Roberts, Clem Labine Released By Baseball Clubs

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—A couple of right-handers who once possessed two of the proudest names in baseball — Robin Roberts and Clem Labine — have been given their walking papers.

Roberts, who was baseball's winningest pitcher over one six-year period for the Philadelphia Phillies, drew his outright release from the New York Yankees Wednesday. Labine, a top relief man and pitching mainstay of the old Brooklyn Dodgers, was released by the New York Mets today.

Roberts is 35. Labine is 36. Each was overlooked in the expansion draft. Their outright release is the second for each. Each may be at the end of his baseball career, though Roberts says he doesn't intend to quit. Labine was not immediately available for comment.

Roberts, who won 234 games with the Phillies, was near tears as he packed his bag in the Yankee dressing room.

"I want to stay in baseball as an active player," he said. "Naturally, I am a little shocked at this release, but I think I am still capable of pitching."

He didn't pitch an inning for the Yankees this season. New York picked him up after he had been given his outright release by the Phillies after a 1-10 season last year.

"He didn't fit into our relief plans and I couldn't work him into the starting rotation," Yankee Manager Ralph Houk said. "It is our feeling that he should have every chance to get another job and it is for that reason that we are releasing him at this time."

Labine, who made a career as a relief man, played on four National League champion teams — Brooklyn in 1953, '55 and '56, and the Los Angeles Dodgers in 1959.

He and catcher Joe Ginsberg were released from the Mets to make way for catcher Harry Chiti, purchased outright from Cleveland, and right-handed pitcher Dave Hillman, purchased from Syracuse.

Labine, signed as a free agent after being dropped by Pittsburgh, worked in three games, all in relief, for the Mets this season.

Baseball Clubs Amend Rules For This Season

Rules for the coming season were amended and their final approval given by members of the Salem Softball Association when the group met Wednesday night in the Memorial Building.

Team representatives from the following teams were present for the rule changes: Shaffer Ford, Old Dutch Beer, Lincoln Machine, Industrial Mining, Tullis American and Stepanik's Tavern of Class AA, and Lisbon Hotel Incorporated, American Fire Clay, Italian Club, Odom's Sohio, Bliss Co., and Damascus of Class A.

The group's next meeting will be Monday, May 7, in the Memorial Building, beginning at 7:30 p.m. This meeting is being held to sign up as many teams and players as possible to alleviate last minute rushes at deadline time.

East Rochester

Mrs. Frank Adams is in poor condition at Alliance City hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Young spent Easter with their daughter, Mrs. Delmer Smith of Minerva. Mrs. Goldie Hinton attended the Minerva Garden Club meeting Monday.

Revival services closed at the Methodist Church with 24 new members.

Mr. and Mrs. Ronnie Chambers spent Sunday with his parents. Rev. and Mrs. Ralph Chambers.

Mrs. Goldie Hinton called on her brother Claude Brumback in Hartsville recently.

Mrs. Alvada Betz spent Easter with her daughter, Mrs. Sam Snively in Canton.

Mrs. Gwen Shively, Mrs. Geraldine Sherman and Mrs. Eva Shetler of Cleveland called on Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Smith Sunday.

Player Registration Also Scheduled

Training Films On Tap For Junior Ball Teams Saturday

Special training films and lectures for players, managers and coaches of the Salem Junior Baseball Leagues will be presented at the American Legion Home Saturday at 9:30 a.m., according to John Herman, league president.

All boys wishing to register for the coming season are asked to report to the Saturday session, Herman said. Each boy is to bring a player release and contract form with him. These forms may be secured at Fisher's News Agency or Gordon Scott Sports.

Boys from 6 to 19 years of age are eligible.

Tryout classes and interviews will be held Sunday at 2 p.m. at Memorial Park. The classes are for all boys starting to play and for boys who played in 1961 and have not been assigned to a team as yet.

Players on teams without managers and coaches are asked to report to Herman Saturday at 10 a.m. at the Legion home. Practice schedules will be set up for all teams.

Herman said every effort will be made to afford each boy an opportunity to make a team. Boys who do not make any of the four upper leagues will be assigned to a baseball clinic or morning leagues, where special instructors will assist each boy.

The local baseball program this year will be larger than any other season, Herman reports. At the present time there are 10 teams in Class H, 10 teams in Class G, eight teams in Class F and six teams in Class E. Plans are underway to field one or more teams in Class D, 17-19 year olds. The morning leagues will have at least six teams.

The 1962 season will get underway May 20 with preview games at all the city diamonds. Regular season games will begin May 21, with all games starting at 6 p.m.

HOLD PRACTICE SUNDAY

The Leetonia entry in the City-County Baseball League will hold a practice session at the Orchard Hill ball diamond Sunday at 2 p.m., according to Al Stumpo, manager. All persons interested in playing are urged to attend the practice, Stumpo said.

BOOSTERS MEET TONIGHT

The Salem Boosters Club will hold its regular weekly meeting tonight at 7:30 in the Memorial Building, according to Clair Leeper, president.

Bob Kurland of Oklahoma A&M, Alex Groza of Kentucky and Jerry Lucas of Ohio State are the only players in the 24-year history of the NCAA basketball tournament to be awarded most valuable player honors two consecutive years.

Springfield, Bellaire Tuneup Sites

State Champ Hopefuls In Two Weekend Meets

By The Associated Press
Two big high school relay meets, tuneups for the may 25-26 state championships, are on tap this week.

Springfield, taking over as Ohio Wesleyan University abandoned its team relays after 30 years, presents the unique event in which depth is the answer. All races are four-man relays, and all field events are decided on the total performances of three from each school.

The other standout is at Bellaire, also Saturday, where the eight annual fixture features 48 teams from Ohio, Kentucky, Michigan, Pennsylvania and West Virginia. Headliners there are Cleveland East Tech, winner of the Mansfield Relays, and Dayton Roosevelt, state Class AA champion.

Thirty Class AA and a dozen or so Class A teams, including Cincinnati DePore's smaller school state kings, will compete at Springfield. Other standouts are Springfield South, Dayton Dunbar, Springfield North, Sidney, Columbus East, Columbus North, London, Fairborn, Columbus Linden, Miami East, Marion, Springfield Shawnee, Upper Arlington, Troy, Worthington, West Carrollton, Kenton, Hilliards, Madison Trotwood, Hamilton Taft, Columbus Eastmoor and Delaware Hayes.

Class A squads at Springfield include Montpelier, Northwestern of Clark County, West Alexandria, Arcanum, Lewisburg, Columbus University, Eaton, Bremen and Fredericktown.

Other relay meets this weekend are at:

Friday: Lockland, Berea, Wooster, Perry, Ironton, Seaman, Ravenna and Fremont.

Saturday: Blanchester, Hamilton Taft, Prospect, Bryan, Bellville, Smithville, Lakeside, Sandusky, Elyria, Dover, Bucyrus and Amherst.

Major League Stars

By The Associated Press
Pitching — Bob Purkey, Reds, won his third without a loss, allowing only four hits in going distance for first time in 7-1 victory over New York Mets.

Batting—Andre Rodgers, Cubs, drove in five runs with sacrifice fly, double and a three-run homer in the eighth inning that snapped a 6-6 tie in 9-6 triumph over the Los Angeles Dodgers.

In the 24-year history of the NCAA basketball tournament, only eight states with university division colleges have not sent a team to the post-season meet. They are Alabama, Delaware, Maine, Minnesota, Mississippi, South Carolina, Vermont and Virginia.

From Deck of Staten Island Ferry

View An Impressive Skyline for Nickle

NEW YORK (AP)—What can you buy with a nickel? In this mecca of the high-priced, you can buy an escape from the thundering throng, fresh air, sea breezes, a spooning spot, and views of the Statue of Liberty and the most impressive skyline in the world—all at one time.

You drop the nickel into a slot as you pass through a turnstile to board a Staten Island ferry boat, an odd-shaped, barn-red craft that looks like a barge with three dance pavilions stacked on top.

Nine—sometimes 10—of these vessels daily ply between Manhattan's lower tip and St. George on Staten Island, five miles to the southeast. They move across the busiest harbor in the world, past scores of barges, lighters, chugging little tugs and graceful ocean liners.

It's easily the busiest waterborne passenger service in the world. In 1961, 25,694,244 persons and 1,712,240 vehicles were transported on almost 3,000 round trips. For 40,000 residents of Staten Island, it's the only direct link to jobs.

But the Staten Island Ferry is more than a passenger line. It's one of metropolis' major tourist attractions, a get-away-from-it-all haven for the city's tired—a stage, the ferry crewmen say, where a hundred dramas are played daily.

When a ferry churns out of a U-shaped slip at Manhattan's Whitehall Terminal, it's pointed directly at Governor's Island, so named because the king's representative in the colonial days resided there.

Less than 100 yards out, the ferry swings southward. At its rear, the financial district spires rise above the rolling green or Battery Park. Up the East River, the Brooklyn and Manhattan bridges hang suspended, often barely visible in a fog or haze.

Close to 3,000 persons cram aboard each ferry during the morning and evening rush hours, and the craft depart each terminal every 10 minutes. Comes the spring with the tourists and the daytime loads increase until they reach a peak in the late summer. Last August, for instance, 2.5 million persons took the ride.

The Staten Island Ferry's history goes back more than 300 years. In the 1660s, with wind and muscle the pushing forces, the trip took three hours. Today it takes 25 minutes.

Biology Is Lagging Pitifully In Field of Space Science

By EARL UBELL

Herald Tribune News Service
ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. — Imagine a space ship with a dozen men on board hurtling toward Mars. After having been gone from earth about a month, one man notices large lumps of flesh growing from his face, his legs and his body. To the doctor on board, the bumps are like cancers. The next day another man breaks out and the panic is on.

At this moment scientists have no reason for suspecting such a horror; on the other hand, they have no proof it won't happen for the simple reason that no living organisms have spent a month in space under constant scientific surveillance. In space science, biology has lagged pitifully.

This was evident here last week at the annual meeting of Aerospace Medical Association where at least three speakers mapped out large areas of unknown biology in space. Much of the unknown has to do with weightlessness, the condition in which an orbiting spaceship or one far from a heavenly body feels no pull of gravity.

ONE SIMPLE biologic experiment will make clear the weird character of the problem. Almost every child has grown a lima bean in a jar. The sprout usually grows straight up. If after the sprout is about two inches long you turn the jar on its side, the growing tip will make a right angle turn and grow upward again. The bean is sensitive to gravity.

What would happen to that bean sprout if it were kept watered and lighted in a satellite. Would the tip grow straight? Would it spiral? Would it wiggle all over space? How does the growing tip "know" which way is up?

All this does not mean that scientists have done no space biology. Since the first high-altitude balloon flights and rocket launches, scientists have sent up seeds, algae, bacteria, fruitflies, fish, frog skins, various eggs, mice, dogs, monkeys, biochemical substances and human beings.

THE UNITED STATES Air Force has sent six bio-packs into orbit; the Russians, (not counting manned flights) have sent up an equal number, most of them in 1960 and 1961; the Navy tried to send up some yeast in the Vanguard rocket and failed; the National Aeronautics and Space Administration in space which failed to launch.

Despite all this work, most of the results have been indefinite, that is, they showed no effects on their trip into orbit. There are a couple of exceptions: the Russians reportedly discovered that bone marrow in bean-sprout cells multiplied more rapidly (perhaps the fear of cancer is not so far-fetched as it first seemed.) The Air Force in its Discoverer satellite program found space radiation affected some living substances.

The Air Force test, reported by Dr. Allen Katzberg, chief of Cellular Biology at the School of Aviation Medicine, San Antonio, Texas, took place during a storm on the sun which sent out an enormous amount of radiation. Satellite Discoverer XVII got caught in that hail of rays. The Air Force recovered the capsule with its human cells and tissue culture, embryonic chicken heart, bacterial spores and test tubes of anti-bodies. Dr. Katzberg reported the cells showed some changes weeks later; the bacterial spores—dormant germs of gas gangrene—germinated more slowly than normal. The rest of the material apparently remained unaffected.

WHY HASN'T THERE been more biology in space? Dr. Orr Reynolds, who recently took over the NASA's life sciences program, believes top biologists have not been interested in the problems of space biology. Another scientist outside of NASA said part of the fault lay with the agency. "They haven't advertised their interest to the biologists," he said.

Now interest in fundamental biology has perked up. Dr. Reynolds has three programs in space biology taking shape. In a year or so, he hopes the agency will send grasshopper eggs, algae and barley seeds into the radiation belt around the earth.

The second phase consists of throwing a large mammal into orbit to study nervous and heart systems during extended periods of weightlessness — perhaps a week.

FINALLY Dr. Reynolds hopes to put up longer-term satellites containing radiation-measuring devices of the kind used by x-ray specialists in studying the dosage to human beings and animals.

In addition NASA has been studying outside proposals. One announced last week at the Aerospace Medical Convention by Dr. Charles Gell, of Vought Astronautics, Dallas, Texas, would place a flask of human liver cells in orbit. A microscope and television camera would observe their behavior. Perhaps they will change in size and shape.

In the absence of gravity, strange things happen to liquids.

They don't mix as rapidly as they do on earth. Perhaps such mixing is vital to certain biochemical processes in cells. Certain eggs—those of the frog—orient themselves up and down before hatching. What will weightlessness do to them? Algae, which some persons have proposed as the long-term food for astronauts on inter-planetary missions, might undergo mutations and poison their human dependents. Who knows?

In the end, only additional fundamental experiments in space can settle the question of the safety of weightlessness and irradiation for man and beast.

Beloit

Mrs. Waler Taylor, Mrs. Hattie DeBolt of Sebring and Nancy Burky of North Benton accompanied Mrs. Melvin Moulin to Somerset, Pa., and the Pittsburgh Airport recently.

Mrs. Bruce Slagle will be hostess to the Bouffant Club May 15. Beloit firemen extinguished a grass fire behind the Pilgrim Holiness Church north of town. They aided the Damascus and Sebring departments at the Donald Scheiben home on Route 165 Saturday and again aided the Sebring department at a grass fire on Oyster Road Sunday.

Smith Township Home Extension Club met at the Smith Grange hall. Mrs. Glenn Mason of Sebring instructed in decoration made of sugar.

Sixteen girls were invested into Brownie Troop 489 by the leader, Mrs. Retha Morris, assisted by Mrs. Ethel Sommerville. New Brownies are Roxanne Barker.

Ferret Out the Cause of Insomnia

Next time you can't get to sleep or doze off and waken wide-eyed in an hour or so, don't look for something with which to slug yourself off until you've figured out the cause for your insomnia. Here are some highly unscientific suggestions:—

Room too hot or too cold. Air too dry or too soggy. Too many or too few pillows. Sheets too tight or too loose. Mattress too hard or too soft. Room too noisy or too light. Too much or too little activity before retiring. Stimulation of card game, movie or argument or listlessness due to a boring evening.

Stomach too full or too empty. No good trying to sleep if you're blown up like a tick or if your tummy's grumbling because of hunger.

DRUG STIMULATION from too much coffee, tea or cola beverages. Or pep-up pills. Or appetite-killers containing pep-uppers. Or from thyroid over-dosage. Or from alcoholic drinks like brandy that produce early drowsiness and later excitement. Or, in the hospital, from morphinelike pain killers that take away your discomfort but leave you as jumpy as the proverbial cat on the proverbial hot tin roof.

Exposure to industrial stimuli while on-the-job, especially tetraethyl lead additives to motor fuel. Cold tootsies, leg cramps, etc., relieved by wearing bed socks and long woolies.

Sleeping companion who holds breath, thrashes about or snores. Nasal obstruction that wakens you with a snort.

Spell of coughing usually from accumulated secretion in back of throat.

Nightmare, especially after drinking bout. Itching, particularly in winter

Focus on Health

By The Associated Press
Possible hazards in hair sprays, polio vaccine and tooth banks are topics of medical reports:
Hair Spray Hazard?

A medical study raises suspicions that hair sprays may cause lung diseases in some women, and men who work as hair-dressers. There is no proof this happens, and thousands of women have used the sprays without any apparent harmful effects, says a team of doctors.

But they tell of 15 women and men who possibly suffered lung damage from breathing in particles of resins used in hair sprays. They found evidence of lung damage either in X rays, in examinations of bits of tissue, ad in autopsies of three women.

Polio Vaccine

The new live-virus polio vaccine now is becoming available, but a committee of the American Academy of Pediatrics sees no emergency or urgency to give it to persons who have already had the full series of killed-virus of Salk vaccine shots and boosters.

Most paralytic polio occurs now among persons who didn't get Salk vaccine, it says. The specialists urge more effort to use the Sabin or live-virus vaccine in persons who as yet have had no vaccination. The Sabin vaccine offers several advantages, and "is best used on a community wide basis whenever an epidemic of polio strikes an area."

Extra Teeth

One day you may be able to call on a tooth bank to replace missing teeth.

As an initial step, teeth have been preserved and grown outside the body in research by Dr. Robert Gerstner at the New York University Dental Center. Teeth in early stages of growth can be treated with an anti-freeze, glycerol, and then freeze-stored for years. They grow normally again after quick thawing.

Avocado Salad Plate

2 medium avocados, Lemon juice and salt, 1/2 cup to 2-3 finely diced celery, 1/2 cup to 2-3 finely diced cucumber, French dressing, 1 can (3 3/4 ounces) brisling sardines, Salad greens and tomatoes.

Cut avocados in half lengthwise; remove seed and strip off skin. Brush cut surfaces with lemon juice and sprinkle with salt.

Mix together the celery and cucumber with enough French dressing to moisten; spoon into avocado cavities. Arrange on salad greens with sliced tomatoes and sardines. Makes 4 servings.

BIGGEST REACH

99 Million Consumers Read a Daily Newspaper Each Weekday

These readers make up the largest audience available to any advertiser in any medium. A recent study* of this national newspaper audience shows that it includes 80 per cent of all men and women over 21...and 72 per cent of all teenagers, age 15 and over. This huge and consistent readership can be depended upon by advertisers because the daily newspaper is a habit with most people...an established part of their everyday lives. For the national advertiser, this amounts to almost the total market for any product. For the local advertiser, this massive readership symbolizes the local reach of his own local newspaper—into almost 9 out of 10 homes every day. No matter what the product or service an advertiser wants to sell, more people can read about it in the pages of the daily newspaper.

Lancaster's Credo

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—"You can't protect yourself by trying to hide from life," said Burt Lancaster. "Life is movement. Life is something to be used. That's what it is there for. I agree with Bernard Shaw who said, 'Waste life—but waste it wisely.'"

Burt has lived by his own credo that a man should throw himself into the deep water young—and swim hard.

He left college as a sophomore to become a $3-a-week circus acrobat. Before becoming an actor he spent three years in the Army and worked as a floor walker in the lingerie section of a department store, a haberdashery salesman, and fireman in a Chicago meat packing plant.

Lancaster is a cheerful, ruggedly aggressive man with the stubborn "take-charge" instinct of a natural athlete in any situation. He didn't rise to stardom. He bounced there from the impact of one brief Broadway play and his first movie.

The fact his mere appearance in a film soon gave it a million-dollar edge at the box office didn't satisfy Burt. He moved quickly into the producing end also, and he intends to go right on producing.

"When I make something, I want it to have the stamp of my personality all the way. That is the exciting thing—to be in on something creative from its birth."

Lancaster believes more actors and writers will become producers.

"What defeats most people in life is bowing to false gods—fame, money or public approval," he said. "What anyone really should seek most is his own self-approval."

"There's a big danger in becoming too nice and agreeable a guy. You can lose your own character that way—and your purpose," he says.

It is perhaps no coincidence that Burt Lancaster is considering starring in a film on the life of Gen. George S. Patton. He shares much of the personal philosophy of "Old Blood and Guts."

WILL COMMAND IN EUROPE — Gen. Paul L. Freeman Jr., above, who aided in organizing Merrill's Marauders of World War II, will take over as the Army's European commander April 30. He will succeed Gen. Bruce C. Clarke, who is retiring.

Election of officers for 1962-63 will be held. All employees or supervisors in production or inventory control in this area are invited to attend the meeting and the dinner which will be served at 6:30.

Tavern Operators Ask $14,980 In Crash

LISBON — A suit totaling $14,980 for injuries and damages in an auto-tavern accident was filed in common pleas court Wednesday by Charles F. and Annabelle Hoider, operators of the Midway Restaurant in Hanoverton.

Wayne Hillyer of Hanoverton was named defendant.

The plaintiffs claim that on Jan. 13, the defendant lost control of his car on Route 30, veered off road and crashed into their tavern.

The Hoiders each seek $5,000 for personal injuries, plus $4,980 for repairs to the tavern, loss of revenue while the building was being repaired, and expenses.

Hillyer was indicted by the April Grand Jury for second degree manslaughter in the death of Earl McIntosh, 43, of New Garden, a patron in the tavern who was killed in the accident.

Yellowstone ON THE WAY TO THE FAIR

A boom year is expected this year at world famous Yellowstone National Park as hundreds of thousands of Americans travel west to the Century 21 Exposition in Seattle, Wash. The park, covering about 3,472 square miles in Wyoming, Montana and Idaho, abounds with "wild" animals, many of them veterans of posing for snapshots. One of the main attractions is spectacular Old Faithful geyser which shoots a plume of hot water and steam 170 feet into the air about every 65 minutes. The eruptions last for four minutes. Another famous attraction is Yellowstone Falls, which roars down in a cascade of white foam through a drop of 308 feet — almost twice as high as Niagara Falls. Park officials look forward this year to perhaps two million visitors — which would be the greatest number in the park's 90-year history.

TV Titles Almost As Long As the Programs

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—The hour-long television program really blossomed last season, but this has been the year in which titles became almost as long as the programs themselves.

For example, there was a "Naked City" episode called "Today the Man Who Kills the Ants is Coming." There is an upcoming "Route 66" show called "There I Am, There I Always Am." Eight and nine word subtitles are routine.

Producers of "actuals"—documentaries, public affairs and educational shows—are the most long-title-prone of the lot. CBS recently had a program whose official title was "The Great Challenge—U.S. and U.S.S.R.: Coexistence or Collision?"

NBC doesn't try to save words, either. A typical title for one of its documentary shows is "NBC White Paper No. 11—Arms and the State," followed by an explanation of what the title means. ABC tries to slip the sponsor's name into the title—"Bell and Howell Close-Up Back to Bhowani."

Titles string out so endlessly nowadays there just isn't room for them in program listings—or even columns—so they defeat themselves.

Maybe next year—ah, next year—they'll get back to short, no-nonsense tags with no more than two or three words and minus dashes, colons and exclamation points.

Bob Hope popped up with a particularly lively show on NBC Wednesday night, bristling with impudent and deft shafts that he hurled in all directions but mostly toward Pittsburgh, Washington, and, of course, Rome.

His opening monologue was confined primarily to the recent troubles of Big Steel, and Big John Kennedy, that is. He waited until he was working with guest star Frank Sinatra to work over the Liz-Dickie situation. Not even Sinatra's recently broken "engagement" escaped his attention.

Recommended tonight: "CBS Reports," 10-11 (EST)—Interview with former C.I.A. head Allen Dulles.

New CD Directors At Local Meeting

Howard W. Heston, newly-appointed director of Salem Civil Defense Organization, presided when members met recently in the American Legion Hall with Alex Rutecki, county director of civil defense, as a guest.

It was explained that due to the shortage of county funds no money will be available for salaries or expenses of members, townships and cities signing the Mutual Aid Agreement at this time.

Mrs. Virginia Worman reported on the progress of the Home Preparedness course now being given in the Council chambers of the city hall. An average of 15 persons has attended each of the six sessions held.

Patrolman Defendant In Car Crash Suit

LISBON — A suit for $18,000 for personal injuries and damages allegedly stemming from an auto accident was filed in common pleas court Wednesday by Joseph Heatherington of Wintersville.

Ohio Highway Patrolman Philip E. Wenner of Leetonia RD 1, was named defendant. Heatherington claims that on March 12 as he was traveling north on Rt. 7, about two miles north of Rogers, the defendant, driving south in a patrol car, made a left turn in front of him, causing a collision. The plaintiff claims he suffered severe personal injuries and damages to his car.

at the Old Country Store

Be sure to attend the fish fry April 27, Friday night between 5 and 7 at the Methodist Church in Washingtonville. It is for the benefit of the Fire Department Building Fund. Those boys and ladies over there have worked very hard to get their nice new building. A good fire department can come in mighty handy for the people in this area.

Be Sure To Register For This Car To Be Given Away Sunday, May 6th
